

TRANSFORMING INDIA ... the vedic way

Indeed good signs indicate that the modern* governance is keen towards Transforming our country & restore its past glory in regard to human skill & outstanding performance within every stream of life pertaining to human-capability. A simple approach is made here to help understand how such esteemed objectives could be achieved to rescue humankind out of the grips of various adversities & adversaries. To avail advantages out of such propositions; the synthesis of human life-design in relative to our astronomic surroundings made purposefully by the Creator must be clear.

 the 'modern' word herein does not necessarily mean good only, this word only relates to the current times i.e. refers to our today's world — which is a result of our collective consciousness i.e. today's effect of ongoing various presentations made by the masses.*

Ancient science can be well explored with the present system of education in India where English stands to be well versed amongst the masses today. Rather, the appliance most needed to be deployed is that which can find a means to extract the " Wonder formulae " out of Nature which resides deep within ancient Vedic-science. This could ONLY be made possible by: promoting & supporting the values & importance of Truth & Righteousness — adaptation of this by itself will deliver the requisite Wonder by graduating people to higher planes of human consciousness:

- 1) To understand the finer structure of Truth and avail its intricate applications by virtue of its various constituents, one must first carefully learn to understand the Spirit/energy flowing in and around us. Its power could then be deployed to discover newer dimensions for suitable applications and global sustenance, as a need today. For this purpose; the Vedas, Upanishads and other such scriptures are already available in our modern languages i.e. English/Hindi which are good enough as confirmatory reference to grasp the complexed functions of spiritual science (wisdom of spirit), which abandoned us long back.

- 2) Secondly, to bring the wisdom of spiritual science effectively into purposeful applications beneficial to usher civilization on to the next higher arena one must be well familiar with the basics of human philosophy — the indispensable wisdom presented in Gita is the most suitable guide for this purpose i.e. how to live & perform our duties in this world, purpose of life and how to break away from the bondages of worldly attachments. Only thereafter one can ascend to higher realms of Nature to avail needed wonders. The valuable scriptures have nothing to do with any religion, caste, creed, faith but meant for use as Referral to understand this science better and also to proceed onward.
- 3) Wisdom of scriptures remain limited unless the same is well understood & practiced in life whilst working amongst the mainstream of an active society i.e. the complete being of a person has to become that wisdom.

The global citizenry is now seeking a major change that could be good enough to help break-away from the monotony of present impasse containing misery created due to stagnated consciousness of our presently acquired human-capability. Even if a few thousands could reach the moon, mars or any of the surrounding celestial objects with our present technology what good is it? It will yet take you millions of years to develop the same and make it habitable? Our astro scientific capability has revealed the presence of many billions of more galaxies other than ours within this huge cosmos (universe/ nature's-totality/Brahmaan) but unfortunately we remain handicapped due to our limited intelligence & competence which prevents us reaching the closest suitable galaxy /other-planets due to the factor ' X ' i.e. the distance of the same from us. This factor X is not just space of emptiness but it contains a stuff called " matter of dark energy" which was purposefully created by the creator of this colossal cosmos. If we can remove this separating dark energy stratum between us & our distant neighbours, the distance X can be reduced. One way to accomplish the same is to deploy the " black-hole " technique to do the needful. Global scientists/ physicists have observed galaxies travel towards each other and merge by the immense power of the Black-hole machine which amounts to simple logic that distance X could be reduced similarly for our suitable applications. But, our conventional science has no answer for this — it has been incapable to bring rains in drought affected area or to stop raining where there is likelihood of flooding then how can such scientific outlook even think of deploying a more complicated spiritual application towards more gigantic tasks in order to bring in that needed change to set in wonders?

Indeed, with the present rate of our human performance as acquired by virtue of conventional science; every task will also get achieved but after billions of years' toil. A wiser approach today using Spiritual science can lead us to its source i.e. the Creator/ God who can help achieve our needed objective much easily & earlier. The result would be wondrous as we will gain early access to suitable neighbours with whom we can share much, in every respect, and; also rejoice entering into an altogether new phenomena thereby establishing onto higher regions of Nature's playstore and obtain accelerated progress to benefit every resident upon this planet.

The various scriptures in our world mainly contain wisdom which is good enough to earn one salvation — this was the correct practice long back by virtue of which the enlightened ones could bid the world good bye and merge back into the entity. Sri Aurobindo refers this practice as an escape route and rather prefers another way which could instead place the planet onto a Transformation mode and achieve the needed tools to transform the entire outlook and every life on Earth. Much more can be enjoyed by understanding the hidden beauty of Nature's creation. This achievement is possible by virtue of getting better grips with the finer wisdom hidden within the core of spirituality. This can also neutralize the impending threat, otherwise we must be prepared to face extinction; or perhaps take it as the way of Nature. But, instead of surrendering before such haplessness why not we explore this suggested newer approach which is easy & free of cost, and could experience the difference. Another way possible to achieve the same is indicated in Bulletin no. 8 of the Service section, which is a simpler way to avail Divine energy influx. This needs execution of the knowledge & capability which is already available within the established domains of our today's human capability and easy reach.?

Misconceptions about Sanskrit in today's world

There is a belief amongst some sections of the Indian society especially the orthodox system, that our ancient language Sanskrit contains the key or perhaps it could crack some hidden code within ancient science by which the release of Divine Energy could be made possible to create a new wonderland upon our country and accelerate India onto a rapid progress :

1. Our Vedic Sanskrit of much before 6000 yrs. back was just a language of correspondence at that time which got phased out long back and was later replaced by conventional Sanskrit which also dimmed out with time. This change is a part of nature's evolutionary process which must be well understood and accepted. Today the system in India is better versed with Hindi & English(mainly) for the purpose of learning, writing, education — as a common, easy, reliable and convenient mode of correspondence / media in schools, colleges, offices, IT sectors etc.
2. Indeed, there is a great amount of latent potential available in ancient science but that does not mean that one need to learn or thrust Sanskrit upon the citizens to tap or decipher valuable credentials amid that lost science. Every bit of information, knowledge & wisdom pertaining to that science is easily available today in English format, also. In fact such related precious wisdom needs no language at all to grasp its essence as it can also be achieved by direct perception & proper application of the human-mind by sincerely engaging the same in higher pursuit with reasonable amount of determination & strong Will

3. Reason why English needs to remain adopted as of its present stand today in our system of education & society is because India is chosen to enlighten the entire world; for this purpose English is commonly accepted and is most suitable for global prospects, as of now. If you impose Hindi upon the Indians then India too will become bound to remain enclosed within its limitations, like some countries. India needs to expand, permeate beyond every boundary & limitations in regard to dissemination of skill & wisdom globally — with acquirable widespread applications, in interest of humanity & every life upon our weary planet. Nature has made us evolve today, this far, using English as a common language with a purpose and one must respectfully embrace the same unless one can develop another such language that could be simpler for global civilization to adapt. Any amount of digging at Sanskrit will not yield better result other than its basic academic value.

BASICS of Spirit

Whenever a professional works hard deeply engrossed to excel in one's respective field of action; the spirit flowing through her/him must also be carefully monitored, recognized & respected. There need be a total harmony between the Spirit and the Body for it does happen at times that a person gets extremely engaged with work and completely forgets the quality of vital /spirit flowing thru her/ him. During intense work, at a stage, the vital exhausts and soon the Spirit quietly withdraws itself leaving the individual prone/ vulnerable to psychic attacks. One need have complete knowledge about working of the spirit within. More about this could be obtained from Human Spiritual science [H-Ss] at www.divinekripa.in An imbalance between such functions could result undesirable consequences which could perhaps be a reason to what happened to Professor Stephen Hawkins. God the Creator has made the human system design & function like this where one need have a reasonably good knowledge & coordination between body, mind, vital, spirit etc. The spirit feeds the body both from within and external sources; its characteristics /functions in regard to its work, assimilations & control is very important to soar into regions of higher platforms of human Consciousness in order to avail its embedded merits, in every respect.

Alike the two parallel rail-tracks, as a train, one must also remain aware at work about the body+vital function alongwith needed coordination of the common-spirit to ensure perfect synchronization and prevent any malfunction. Yes, all these do function unconsciously most of the time but the problem starts when there is an imbalance & too late to correct it. The net result is that the body alone falls/weakens/paralysis/illness occurs with its nasty pangs. That is why it is very much emphasized that the art of engaging the spirit more within our lives needs study of the Science of Spirituality; but, how & when to perform — needs the Gita philosophy.

The more one knows about this forgotten science the better would be one's performance in every aspect of life. The human body/vital function is limited whereas the Common-Spirit flowing in and around us could be made available unlimited by virtue of one's attained wisdom & allied practical-capability (consciousness). Spiritually one can become as huge & powerful as the entire cosmos itself (Aham brahmasmi) but please be careful of this aspect as a lot of work is required before such objective could be ventured, instead become an instrument of the Creator and work along with nature, for Nature and by the will of nature — to achieve everything feasibly required for global welfare and needed public interest.
