EFFECT OF HUMAN-PERFORMANCE UPON MONSOON

Human beings are mini-gods and every action performed by us has direct relevance upon our surroundings, society and destiny. Ignorance, inability or incompetence is not acceptable as reason for not being able to perform better at one's respective work-place/ within society — i.e. in regard to achievement /capability pertaining to demonstration of higher order of Perfection Standards within one's acquired level of human Consciousness.

Our microscopic planet resides within one among billions of such galaxies created by God within its huge Cosmos (Brahmaan). There exist trillions of huge stars, planets and colossal Celestial objects as Nature's creation in her gigantic attire — the size of which is extremely unimaginable. Even the fastest mode of travel i.e. speed in terms of light/ electro-magnetic radio signals would take bewildering years to reach the furthest point; that vastness is the size of the entire cosmos. Our planet Earth is analogous to just a tiny dust particle in this gigantic outer-space. The splendorous work of the Creator who masterminds & controls its creation is an ultimate example of dedicated workmanship in the most dignified direction towards extreme Perfection using & optimizing the spirit of Truth & Righteousness at one's respective workplace. The Creator has TWO types of creation in her garb:

- a) One is the FIXED-rhythm of celestial objects' pre-established perfectly-synchronized related movement & orbits in space, AND
- b) The other type is the VARIABLE pattern, applicable to Weather change and its associated Monsoon-Cloud-formation system, which is the subject matter of this article.

Meteorology is that branch of Science which deals with study of weather but not in making of weather & climates. Weather-prediction is based upon scientific-instrument observations in regard to changes pertaining to barometric pressures, weather-patterns, wind intensity/direction & its movements as detected, for scientists to analyze — but; such effect-based predictions may not come true as there are several variables involved beyond the perceptions of conventional Science & Technology. Indeed, human capability has evolved well enough to detect weather parameters and associated changes in our atmosphere as an 'effect', but; not the "CAUSE" for such changes. The weather-pundits may ignorantly attribute a Low-pressure formation to be a cause for their predictions by deciphering out of their plotted isobars on charts, but what causes a Low system to form in a region at a particular time? This aspect of science belongs to another branch of elite wisdom accessible only through study of workings of the SPIRIT in conjunction with { [Human Spiritual-science \[HS-s\]](#) }, as appended in the Service section of this site. Multiple factors & aspects of wisdom pertaining to weather phenomena occurrences, changes, creation, controllability and its allied applications within our day-to-day life could be made possible only after obtaining substantial cooperation from the masses; if they so desire to become involved and interested for the perusal of such higher objectives.

It is reiterated that Satellite/ radar imagery & various scientific instruments can record & measure various parameters of our atmosphere such as: wind, its changes/patterns, temperature, atmospheric-pressure, humidity, cloud-formations and its movements etc. But conventional scientific endeavours/ capability remain limited to that extent only; not beyond. Then who creates, decides and brings about changes in climate/ weather patterns & related phenomena world-wide? Why some countries are blessed with timely rains, good-weather & climate conditions whereas some remain deprived? This aspect of its Control-Capability: the Creator has delegated upon the human-mind, partly. The collective human-mind output in terms of its associated release or absorption of psychic/spirit Energy gets manipulated either consciously or out of ignorance. This aspect, along with nature, together plays the role in determining the diurnal /seasonal changes within our atmosphere pertaining to weather. The vague term assumed as a 'natural-phenomena of nature' about weather changes, referred to by the ignorant may please be now considered as a matter of kid-stuff i.e. outdated practice of assumptions, theory & sightless ideology of a lower rung. The need now onward is: how to proceed beyond such ignorance onto higher platforms of Consciousness to avail & enjoy its embedded merits? The amount of related change in behavior of weather/ climate patterns or its related effect is directly proportional to the quantum of Energy that gets affected / displaced by the human-mind i.e. we as humans are the creator for this aspect of our ambience & its changes; and again it is we who are responsible for its failure or success, not nature. This is why monsoon, winds, clouds, atmospheric pressure and other such aspects do not appear precisely on fixed-basis regularity as like Sunrise and other planetary/Celestial movements. We human beings should be pleased & grateful to God / Mother Nature, that; she has accorded us with this aspect as a portion of her Natural-products' controllability, to help, suit and evolve joyously. And, we must therefore endeavour our very best to venture into the valuable-direction of exclusive Spiritual-science in order to discover its latent values towards better applications for our planetary existence & its evolutionary progress with respect to every life & matter upon the planet.

One would need to go through the entire stuff at the www.divinekripa.in to understand more as to what is being put forth in this article. At this moment, only a remedy to bring about the required changes (parivartan) amid our living standards and obtain relief for Indian Public is attempted: As indicated, the monsoon-system flow is seen to move from East towards

West as depicted with black-arrows by which the South-East Asian countries east of India enjoy good rains from the prevailing cloud-flow system. India too could benefit from such system if the flow moved upward North-East as shown by the blue coloured arrows to deliver the required (S-W)South-West Monsoon's precipitation into India. But, the Westward movement of the system causes these dense white cloud monsoon-systems (shown as white-patches /black arrows) to bypass India by its movement as travelled from Vietnam, Myanmar, Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand, Singapore (such located countries) towards West. The updated satellite image (infra-red) of Indian Met. Dept can be accessed at: <http://satellite.imd.gov.in/insat.htm>

Unfortunately, today our country is still reeling under tough political crises whereby a great tussle is going on within the minds of the good & evil; as a result of which there is collision/destruction resulting loss of Vital-Energy which otherwise could have been well harnessed as a correct facilitator in creating the desirable S-W Monsoon-system's movement suitable for India and also in regard to its timely development & distribution. Indeed, the commonly understood concept of the so termed Normal occurrences in respect of monsoonal cloud-systems' movements do get attributed automatically as Normal-routine phenomena — but, only when there is a Normal-conduct of Life, performed by the masses/humans in a region. This aspect of a 'correct-conduct in life' we all understand well but feel shy to practice in our daily lives. Moreover corruption & foul-play in our country's past governance has crippled the nation with undesirable imbalance and such Evil yet blatantly contains enough momentum to resist the proper flow-conduct of a more civilized society, although with a reduced intensity.

The role of common Public, Civil-Society groups, Religious/Spiritual organizations and the ruling Government of any country weighs with paramount importance over stability, welfare & progress of its country. Whenever these parameters get upset; turmoil within the society gets germinated which impedes normality & proper-balance in almost all directions required towards good civilized life and functions. Any effort to delay timely corrective-actions would result into uncalled adversities and calamities. Whenever human-Mind(s) gets unduly agitated, too long, its restlessness creeps in to engulf its entire Natural environment with despairing effects. In other words the characteristics, i.e. quality & quantity of seasonal monsoonal rains could be attributed towards a cause — created by the masses, since the masses also control nature alongwith Nature.

If Arjuna of the Mahabharata times could utter a mantra and bring down pouring Rains about 5000 years back and Lord Jesus could pacify a stormy sea or raise the dead and could hand-out fish/bread out of thin air, then why someone else cannot do it now? Both used the worm-hole technique (transfer of energy). The same, in fact much more can be accomplished now also, its know-how is available for the virtuous. One can even extract clouds out of clear-sky to turn it into precipitation, for; clear sky is not an empty feature but comprised of space-matter which is a stuff i.e. a product of the Creator. This is the main objective of this website — the method of implementing precious techniques to usher-in Marvelous Transformations upon our weary planet in the most acceptable fashion which would be profoundly welcomed by any wise society. It is not easy but possible to avail Divine inputs trickle-in when something phenomenal needs to be accomplished within this gigantic cosmos of Nature. Selfless-service arising out of extreme sacrifices, meticulous/ dedicated sincere work and practice of Truth & Righteous conduct in life at any cost are the very basics to earn that higher platform with Nature where lies Joy & Fulfillment in every respect. There is no short-cut; but only one way – is the Right way universally accepted correct.

Indeed, all this amounts to a tough exercise but the problem occurred long back when the most precious branch of science called Spiritual-Wisdom got vanished from civilization by falling into wrong hands as it got misused & misinterpreted which resulted the lock-up of this unique treasure, as an ill-effect. Thereafter we were left with no other recourse but to depend solely upon intellect derived capability which has indeed steered our civilization this far, but; that too supplemented with minor invisible divine inputs. Now a point of stagnation has arrived in our planet's process of evolution when intellect based science & technological competence refuses to tread any further alone: to bring-in more Joy & relief to human, i.e. transcend beyond the present level of achieved collective consciousness towards newer horizons of hope & wonders within nature to realize & avail the same better. With regard to this article's related matter concerning monsoonal-cloud-system: we need to first accept in doing-away with the outdated kids-stuff theory that the sea-water evaporates and forms into clouds and then the winds bring them to rain over the mainland etc . if it were to so happen then it should always be raining over the coastal areas with the winds blowing from Sea towards land, especially in summer when the evaporation rate is higher? No! it does not happen like this alone. Indeed moisture and wind play a role but there is also another hidden player in the formation of the needed cloud-system and its precipitation — the involvement of human-mind(s) with its collective-Energy blended alongwith with Nature-inputs deployed to yield the desired result. We may make strong desires but our desires can only get accomplished if there is suitable Energy available in us i.e. within such thoughts and one must know how to use & direct them. Everything happens silently un-noticeable to the ignorant mind whereas the evolved ones can sense the actions of Nature within and around us easily. Deployment of human-energy is only beneficial when the human behind such disposition, either consciously or unconsciously: is able to successfully accumulate & contribute its attained energy effectively. Indeed there are plenty of sages in the country, who out of their penance & austerities can bring down rains, and yet, many do the same out of ignorance, but such doers possess limited intelligence. The quality & quantity of such contributed energy will have consequential effect i.e. if the energy is more from negative-sources; the result will deliver rain but accompanied with vicious thunder-storms, (CBs), cyclones, devastations, heavy down-pour, landslides, flood havocs, erosion of fertile-land, uprooting-down of trees, destroying crops causing heavy loss of life & property and sometimes also drought in certain areas due imbalance. Whereas if the same is contributed from Positive-sources in perfect harmony & synchronization with Nature: will yield better result known as Sanctification of rain i.e. gentle-rain in the correct manner & proportion; precisely well-spread at the right time to help cultivation/crops/forests/agriculture and provide comfort from the summer heat. Optimum rain obtained from Stratus, Nimbo-stratus clouds with gentle prolonged drizzle brings soothing effect on the human-mind as a blessing. Every drop of such rain is well calibrated in regard to its direction & quantity which also contains 'something extra' during monsoon which casts a green-blanket over parched land, which aids the: " all natural resources of soil ".

With the present problems of Global-warming and its associated effects, if we fail to exercise control over the same using either conventional science or Human Spiritual-science [HS-s] due lack of adaptability; then it is we who need be blamed. Similarly, appropriate application of [HS-s] could easily help humankind re-schedule the onset of monsoon / rains from time to time using available technique of control over nature. We reside in a malleable Space: If we could reach from point A to B in space but if the Creator/Nature feels that we are unfit to proceed beyond to point C; it can increase the distance from B to C unlimitedly, and vice-versa i.e. everything is possible with the correct Wisdom and its well-guided applications, all available within reach for each one of us. Indeed, an effort is required from us which is a part of our duty, responsibility & commitment towards the society / world.

In this site I would be also gradually adding the process & technique as to how to obtain early relief in every respect through Divine inputs. All my effort at this stage is primarily based upon tenets of Truth & Righteousness. Relevant matter awaits approval from the masses as the masses are to decide about practicing such esteemed principles towards applicable-standards in our society or whether to continue ill-practices with the old alibi of ignorance/ inability. The Creator/ Nature can wait as long as the masses take to decide and adapt, as it has a lot of other purposeful works at hand.

Our deficient work-standard has kept us down-below in respect to other universes whose civilizations are enjoying much more advanced living thanours. Our little egoistic-intellect has in fact even deprived us from obtaining a closer proximity/view of other distant galaxies, leave aside developing like them. It is only Spiritual-wisdom which can unveil the hidden techniques and enhance human capability in order to transcend higher and also help shrink our distance from other highly developed colonies of remote galaxies/ universes in space. Nature will keep our reach away from its better side as long as we remain to disrespect its true essence i.e. Truth & Righteousness. Every human behaviour governs its proximity with Nature. One must not shy to accept & practice this simple Formula in life to see its wondrous results early as practicable than to remain impotent and undergo unlimited misery & adversities. It is needless to mention that it was the past good performance of our ancestors which enabled us the comforts of our present achievements; but, what all have we contributed to carry on with the same good spirit? Indeed, all responsible for ill governance in India are accountable to face proportional consequences, in the coming time soon.

SUPPLEMENTED AS [R-3] , on 25th July 2012:

The CORRUPTION virus in India has rendered the Joy of Monsoon redundant. There is a Spiritual technique (kriya) as to how this bug can be mended. Such precious ancient Wisdom needs to be well understood, harnessed and brought into purposeful applications. Ancient Spiritual-science and its allied wisdom were so designed by Nature to help humankind in the long run. Conventional Science has just evolved a few hundred years back which could take the civilization this far only, yet; not alone.

Our Modern era i.e. the current period running-now needs to be pushed-up towards higher regions of Actions for which it is pertinent to implement the needed concept: to be considered as "True Modern-Science of the coming generation" which would be perfect blend of existing Conventional-science along-with the most treasurable wisdom of perpetual Spiritual-science. Human Spiritual-science [HS-s] is the answer to such amalgamation as it contains every process to efficiently access & control over Nature's Energy. The Power behind the Spirit & the contents within the Spirit is the basic stratum (source & resources) in respect to all existence on this Planet. Conventional-science is limited to test-tubes & laboratories, research centres & workshops etc. whereas Spiritual-science is unlimited and available freely everywhere in this gigantic Cosmos. One needs to tap the source of this elite science and bring it into applications to benefit the masses towards every direction to terminate misery and bring-in bounties of Joy & Happiness for the entire civilization and also the welfare of all life & material on this planet.

Heavy rains bring-in destruction as a work of the devil whereas sanctified Rain is the purpose of this article; to bring Joy in every respect for the citizens of India, as a blessing from Mother-Nature. At the same time one must not assume that god will keep showering its blessings unconditionally forever; humans need to work for it. The simplest formula (mantra) is to respect Truth and the Laws & principles of Righteousness. The other way is the work of the demons (Asuric-forces) which too can bring in short-term joys but not everlasting ecstasies. The choice remains with the masses of India to decide. At the present rate of progress pertaining to our country's Governance; it is indubitable that the next Monsoon could become almost totally absent or vicious? Nature is infallible with respect to her concerns & commitments as it is the masses who need to change towards a better way and purpose of Life on this Planet or else be prepared to face extinction.

So far, our good Meteorologists (weather-scientists) could only detect the effects of natural-weather changes, now it is Time to learn as to how the wind Speed & Direction can be changed, how & where clouds can be made to rain, how Lows & Highs get created and much more in regard to our atmospheric envelope. Do not remain glued to primitive ideas or a slave to circumstances; become a part of Nature as its coalition partner and enjoy the wonders of Nature which yet needs to be unveiled. The Creator has made its creation this way: to be captured and enjoyed since our human-mind/soul is premeditated towards the aspect of 'perennial Joy'. This Life is a total Bliss of Nature, it has to be conquered and lived upon as a master, not as a slave. The outdated concepts of Salvation & Liberation are gone; try to transcend beyond that stage and enjoy the true realms of Creation, created by the Creator/Nature: to assist humankind explore in every direction and deliver its infinite bounties of Joys & contentment full of hope & freedom for all. Search for all possible resources (human-intellect based & natural availabilities) in order to procure the requisite knowledge & skill to deploy the same in every respect; so as to bring all possible joy & relief for the masses — and make living in India a better region upon our weary Planet.

Weather woes: In the Utrakhand disaster about 10,000 people lost their lives due heavy rains/floods. Thereafter North-East and several parts of the country were subjected to similar havoc /damages. Last year-end our country faced heavy downpour in Kashmir causing loss of life & property resulting heavy losses to the nation. Some states in the country experienced drought /less rain. Again this year our country faced unprecedented & untimely rains in March /April which impacted heavy losses upon crops. This predator of “undesirable weather occurrences” need be harnessed and brought into perfect control using Vedic science. Nature has become a silent spectator to all such adversaries & adversities imposed upon ourselves by ourselves; as she very much expects us to control the same — ourselves.

Indians must understand that a complete renewal, rescheduling & rejuvenating of the worn-out existing ‘weather-systems’ is possible which could suit us also combat the ill effects of rising global warming. Moreover, newer rain precipitation systems need be introduced to bring in suitable weather; we need not be confined to South-west monsoon or remain dependent upon the rains from western disturbances alone as both have weakened and are ineffective now. Human beings are an embodiment of God and should not remain at mercy to such aged systems. The waiting period till the month of July for the same to creep upward and bless the northern part of the country is too long and miserable. Due to global warming, over-population, pollution etc; India needs a more frequent cloudy /rainy system which could commence by mid-April till mid-September each year so as to keep us comfortable. It has been observed that some countries like China Singapore and other such regions get good rains after every few days? It is high time for India to revive ‘lost glory’ of its accrued potential and avail it.

A new arrangement has already been experimented by nature to demonstrate how to shape and deliver India with the requisite cloud/moisture system from North of India, to be known as Northerly Mausam. This new blessing of nature would contain cold polar air much needed to cool and bless India from the summer heat along with added ingredients. Its effectiveness has been confirmed upto Chandigarh, which could be extended southward also. Such downward travel of this unique system could meet the upward travel of the sluggish Southwest monsoon at central India to amalgamate themselves to form a comprehensive 'Rain-system' for our country and also enshower upon India with its hidden contents/ bounties. We all together can design & create such newer Rain/ watering systems and need not ignorantly remain looking up before weakened/ aged systems?

The scriptures predominantly & most profoundly indicates that there is nothing in this world which can remain as of a permanent nature, everything has a decay life & will perish with time. Newer possibilities, hopes and wonders must be sought & explored with determination to change the destiny of our weary Planet. It is easy, possible and worth taking up as a new recourse today, all that is now required is — surrender before the Truth.

Re-Supplemented on 14th Jan 2016 (R-7) & Air Pollution

A few months back Chennai and surrounding places experienced misery out of a cyclonic system which rendered enormous loss towards life & property. It would incur immense cost & toil to restore its ill-effects. Several days prior to its onslaught satellite / radar imagery predicted the same but our scientific incapability about "control over weather" rendered us hapless? Hence we need to proceed beyond mere prediction; towards needed skill & competence to tackle such monsters well before they can attack so as to enable us avert destruction. This undesirable weather type predator could have been eliminated by the proper perusal of nature's most elementary science (i.e. science of the Spirit of nature) pertaining to grasping the art of control over the 'Power of the Spirit', which had got abandoned long back.

Whenever we are at work physically or even whilst thinking; we use/create/ /displace the power of the Spirit. In fact every type of science available has emerged out as a result of our conscious or unconscious effort whilst we are engaged with work/thinking i.e. during handling the spirit-content of nature using our mind-intellect faculty; although the displacement may be tiny or a greater portion of the gigantic Spiritual Energy available in the cosmos. Human capability towards increased control over more of such useful energy lies within our own deeper science known as Spiritual-science. But, more important before seeking such awareness about this science which got abandoned long back, is to first obtain requisite wisdom & thereafter; needed sanction as available within our human-God system — (Spark/ Soul).

We need use our finer faculty so as to get better grips with requisite skill to launch/ deploy the Power of the Spirit-Energy successfully. The more we have controllability over our human system — better are the result towards obtaining Joy & plentitude in every respect much needed now for the onward progress of our weary Planet. 'Physical science' has enabled us with weather radar & satellite imagery to detect / predict movement of cyclone — whereas the available 'Mental science' can be engaged under perfect coordination alongwith God to help us prevent damages from such predators by using 'That Energy' i.e. similar within a cyclone — to neutralize it instead. In fact much more is possible at this hour of need. Wind, direction, speed and cloud motion/ precipitation can be controlled by human(s); even the atmospheric content at a particular region can be regulated. Rigidly remaining ignorant about our embedded capabilities is no solution to bring an end to misery from our present state; we need to uplift ourselves from a lower consciousness to a higher platform in order to avail much needed benefits. This world of ours is a big playground: we have all come here to play and enjoy climb upward the ladder of Joy — i.e. proceed higher towards the highest order of flawless JOY. The higher Realms of consciousness want us to ascend and enjoy its merits but we instead prefer to remain under inertia to continue with a stagnated 'state of affair'. One has to very firmly follow the principles of Life if higher Joy need be experienced. If Moses, Jesus, Sages and so many simple ones could make it — why not we also try it out?

Trying to explore God Particle with instruments, test-tubes & tunnels is a wild goose chase if the target is to find God /Creator. One can only find God by experiencing God in regard to Its unexplainable Power, Joy & properties. Yes, once God is realized — no ambiguity would remain in the mind of a person who has had such experience, even once! The needed access to that spark of God and realize the unimaginable experience of God is available free of cost within us. But, practice of Truth & Righteousness in one's daily life is mandatory to help one proceed in that direction; as the right way. Otherwise one may even end up into a partnership with Satanic forces when the wrong path is treaded, even unconsciously. Both have Power; you are at liberty to choose your goal. One is creative whereas the other is destructive!

Mere clinging to a stagnated consciousness is the work of cowards; shed your ignorance by submitting yourself before a higher plane or else Mother-Nature will make you to do it. If one carefully examines the past scriptures & various experiences from our history it will reveal truth, that; whenever a new predator took birth to cast its evil spell upon civilization using Satanic forces (Asuras) — nature always simultaneously but stealthily also raised-up its antidote to protect & promote civilization. The potential to search for any such antidote is also within us. Indeed, we need to develop a more conscious (covenant) relationship with God in order to avail more of its bountiful content towards every aspect of more Joyous living upon our Planet. Just like scientists work with eyes & instruments as tools — so could one also work with the inner eye as a potent tool to explore and traverse beyond our limited horizons of achieved capabilities — onto hidden wonders?

AIR-Pollution: The other predator which has now emerged to become a more pronounced challenger is the rising factor of pollution in several cities around the globe. It is obvious now, that: " Pollution has defeated Population ". But, whenever this type of a predator i.e. one which is created by humans: God will not help as God expects the human to correct themselves by controlling the population, pollution generating sources & by spreading the people away to newer habitats. This is already within capability of our present consciousness*. A one-time clean-up of the accumulated undesirable gases in earth atmosphere & restoration of the depleted ozone layer is possible using divine machinery, as explained in Bulletin No.4, with the help of God but he may help only after the requisite efforts from our side towards future prevention of the same is well undertaken by us. He is available to help but we cannot fool him, God has created & terminated trillions of such planets time & again. [* Consciousness contains the faculties of ability & capability]

Indeed people fear of getting exposed before Truth due to its consequences but how long can one remain hidden. Truth is too powerful to compete with.

There are two types of effects every time one errs (or sins): whenever you err you get subjected to its consequential effect as decided by Nature with a specified quantum i.e. in the right proportion. Instantly, one gets subjected to the Law of Righteousness (Dharma) established by a society/court which may be here referred to as A. Subsequently the sinner will also get subjected to the Law of Truth (God), as B, but this aspect will be decided by Nature (God); quantum & time of its effect would be decided by God itself. Hence it be well understood that that an evil doer (sinner) gets subjected to A + B. Please believe it that there is no escape from the effects of B. If the punishment meted out by A is less, it would be adjusted accordingly by the fairness of B. Hence, it would be very wise to submit before truth as early as possible. Nature has also an incorporated provision by which the after-effects upon the sinner could be reduced; if the wrong-doer could adopt the society's mechanism known as 'confession' before the public. But, those who protect/ support the evil-doers incur even greater sin than the sinner & the result is more pronounced upon them — this is the doctrine of the Creator. [Even death is no solution, as the process continues onward with next birth]

Re-supplemented on 12 Jun 2016 (R-9)

Misfortune, or due whatsoever reason one may presume — it is a reality that last season the normal Winter-Rains (due to Western Disturbances) did not bring the required input last winter i.e. Nov.2015 to Mar.2016 to bless the northern part of India. This is not a matter of just chance, as the layman comments about the same; but indeed, it is time to accomplish extensive study & research into its cause & effects? Whatsoever little spells that had occurred also brought-in misery upon the crop as the onset was uncontrollable i.e. too violent — not an act of nature; but the result of desires & errors of the human mind, which needs be controlled. One need understand that the act of nature will always bring in the Rains at the most suitable time with the right quantity to bless the folks — i.e. which will be beneficial to the crops alongwith respite to folks during summer. Such grace/Kripa, results bringing in the rains as sanctifications, by God /Nature.

Creation of Weather systems: This far, the science pertaining to weather study and its predictions pertains to meteorological observations. But this practice has been going on for the past several thousands of years; we need to evolve beyond with regard to human capability about manufacturing/ creating weather system, but; in coalition with Nature so as to successfully be able to launch our own needed weather systems to suit our current need of these times. Just like biological science enabled scientists to proceed deep into human blood/ tissues to discover & control DNA/gene cloning and various other such valuable inventions & capability for the benefit of human, similarly; we as human must also now learn the wisdom & skill to control the human Mind & Weather: to thereby create a more suitable environment around us for welfare of the coming generations —as a humble duty & a gift.

A New System of Winter Rains, known as Northerly Mausam has been established which was demonstrated a few months back bringing cold air-masses containing moisture flow down into India from North as shown by the blue arrow. This new weather system can also be extended downward towards South. It is even possible to persuade God to make it snow at Delhi. A complete new life to our country can be availed as a gift by the kind courtesy of the Creator/God by the much needed Transformation, but sufficient work has to be accomplished for it, as explained in the Transformation update post. There is no scope for short-cuts, incompetency, foul-play, influence, bribery at higher planes of consciousness i.e. in future the Indian governance must work the right way — the correct way, at a better speed to avoid misery upon the innocent folks.

South-West Monsoon travel:

The normal Monsoon system which arrives from the Arabian Sea is seen moving up North-East as shown by the sketch. It also moves upward towards China but after bypassing Indian South peninsula, as shown by the Red arrows whereas it should instead route as indicated by the Blue arrows.

The few main variables in regard to moisture influx are:

- i. The direction of travel
- ii. The intensity of its moisture contents.
- iii. Beneficial dissipation of clouds, as rain.

Above aspects [i, ii & iii] can be controlled using Vedic Wisdom.

It is very meaningful to ponder as to why the nature's moisture feed to China takes a detour around India creating a peripheral route instead of the route over India? Why is this type of flow being created to bypass and deprive India? Both the above sketches shown are almost actual flow of the cloud systems which occurred this year, as obtained from satellite imagery in recent past to emphasize the need for contemplation in order to realize the present state and work properly so as to re-arrange & augment the weather system to suit India.

We need not expect only the already diminishing /weary Rain systems i.e the western disturbances and/or the SW-monsoon system to keep feeding our country sufficiently enough. Everything in this universe is temporary and perishable. We need to develop newer systems which will not only bring in rain to water the crop but also serve as a protective guard by virtue of its cooler influx to offset Global warming effect upon India and usher-in sanctifications with every respect.

As shown in the sketch: the required amount of COOL contribution from North can be made to arrive and meet the Warmer southerly/easterly input to do the wondrous task of perfect amalgamation towards blessing our country with the needed watering systems. This year the summer temperature soared to about 50°C.

PERIPHERAL MONSOON

A new monsoon system arrangement has been established as a bonanza for Chandigarh & adjoining cities in North India — 'Peripheral Monsoon'. The past trend of monsoon arriving North India in July appears to have ended; which would mean that there would be no need for that long wait in sweltering heat added with UV associated woes and global warming effects. When the peripheral flow of moisture towards China reaches close to North-East India by the end of May it gets partly diverted by the easterly wind-flow which takes it along the Ganges/ Himalayan ranges upto about Dehradun from where the flow moves in the direction of about 315° towards Chandigarh to bless that part of the country with early Rains.

Moreover, a portion of accumulated system over China also spills over the Himalayas towards Chandigarh — these are the two new relief corridors setup in recent past by nature, as shown in the sketch. This season the monsoon rains blessed Chandigarh on 1st Jun, as a courteous demonstration by nature; which could be efficiently scheduled for future. This phenomena of cooling by properly timed rains and to also offset global warming misery marks the possibility & hope for early monsoon onset in North India on permanent basis to obtain respite. A complete rearrangement of an optimal well programmed monsoon for our entire country can be availed for which we as human beings need to toil & contemplate upon. In Singapore and adjoining countries it has been observed that they receive rains almost every second day — then why can India not enjoy such blessings of nature?

Even if the moisture-laden cloud-flow system proceeded on a direct route from the Arabian sea towards the China instead of the peripheral route it is not necessary for the same to precipitate/ rain over India during its travel; if nature so commands. But, by such a peripheral route chosen by nature it is obvious that nature does not want to comfort India even with the shade of clouds — this is a very important aspect for serious review as to why such a detour is being accomplished by nature? This has direct relation to human deeds. Although the past era is over when evil could thrive merrily unabated, yet its effect persists. It is time for each Indian to strive very hard towards achieving the objective about a complete Transformation of India.

China remains covered by a protective layer of clouds most of the time receiving moisture input from SW, by the peripheral route or from the West moving past north of Kashmir — who designs this movement? The meteorological department must not remain mere spectators watching satellite imagery/ drawing lines & graphs, making predictions — instead try to create weather by learning the art of getting closer with Nature. Newer systems can be manufactured by getting into a closer covenant with the Creator. Try to find 'that Nature' within yourself which has been feeding & helping you all this while? Don't follow the deceptive western philosophy, instead learn the skill to deploy the true latent potential of India towards newer possibilities by using the mind to permeate beyond the mind so as to explore veiled wonders of Nature and adorn a renewed life for our planet. Life is bliss & joyous. Thrive hard to reach the extremes of perfection in whatsoever be your field of action — live it complete in togetherness with nature. Redemption (mukti) from this world is no match before a life, that; which is lived under coalition with the fullness of nature — one need enjoy life the correct way by becoming one with nature. Discover nature to its fullness, it is possible. The purpose of salvation (moksha) is to live and enjoy life more purposely alongside with Nature as long as you reside in the physical body you possess and rather not to opt for an exit from the world i.e. terminate the process of death & rebirth. That will automatically happen at the right moment, instead let nature decide the right time, it is total JOY.

It's time to evolve and try transform the Mind a step ahead — towards Supermind; not under any fear or doubt but with more submission & sincerity if the true purpose of our planetary existence need be recognized and its veiled potential implemented for better joy towards every life around. Sensual joy is for the senses whereas nature's joy is for the soul. We are souls — a part of the supreme soul. The Supreme Soul is the totality of 'Energy+Bliss'. We can enjoy that bliss when we stop tuning towards sensual temptations of false joy. The human body is just like a robot having preset functions of a stuff called the mind — do not get deceived by its mischiefs.

Arise! Awaken! And fear not about consequences when you become determined to correct and reshape the future — to take your country or the entire planet onto higher platforms of existence. As human beings we only have authority over our actions and not over results. It is only sincere determination which can persuade Creator/ Nature to join-in & bless us with much needed Spirit-Energy & guidance to help us evolve & enable us enjoy her beatitude beyond our present level of hopeless stagnation. The time has ripened enough now, if it cannot be done now— be prepared to see the end? Don't be an instrument to stagnate the Will of God i.e. hamper the process of 'Evolution'. The repercussions would be disastrous upon civilization if the capable ones remain silent spectators? There are too many problems ongoing upon our global civilization today in spite of the capability available within reach of our society to control the same using the conventional methods. An easy way out is to just follow the path of Truth & Righteousness, at every cost and see things reshape better by itself. An even more simpler method is given in the 'Transformation Update' post at www.divinekripa.com

MONSOON 2016, (till 20 August 2015 : Rev- 10)

Improved Monsoon system

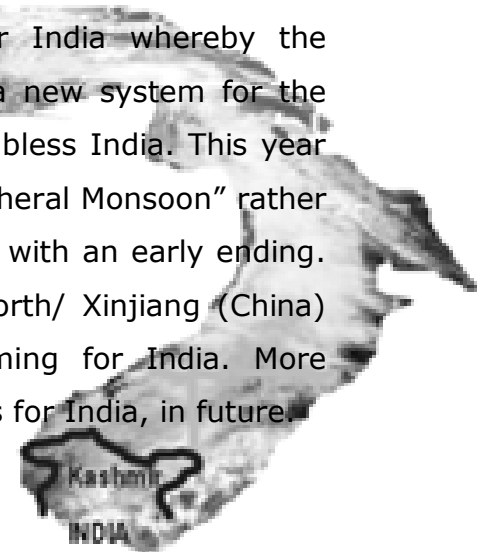

A Transformed Monsoon system has been established for India whereby the Peripheral Monsoon & Northerly Mausam; together formed a new system for the country w.e.f June-2016, as submitted earlier at this site, to bless India. This year the rain delivered upon India was more due to result of "Peripheral Monsoon" rather than the conventional SW-system which was late and abrupt, with an early ending. India also witnessed the Northerly Mausam arriving from North/ Xinjiang (China) side. This cooler input reduces the effect of global warming for India. More coordination with Creator could deliver more purposeful results for India, in future.

UNTAMED Monsoon:

A monsoon need be more purposeful & pleasant rather than wild, destructive and unwelcomed. This season the monsoon 2016 has brought in widespread misery by way of undesirable heavy downpour, floods, landslides and havoc in many places resulting loss of lives and caused immense damages by way of destruction of environment, roads & bridges. This type of a result is the work of demonic/satanic forces which too have power to create weather but have limited control over the same. This is the reason why it has already been emphasized that such work where ever nature's metabolism is involved; one must get Nature into play i.e. do not be the doer (karta) but make Nature do it for you. For this purpose one must have a closer covenant with the Creator — and the only way to get into that relationship is to respect Truth & Righteousness and try and engage the Divine Mechanism more at work than to seek help & support from the satanic forces which could misguide.

Work of Divine would be to deliver an 'optimum monsoon season' which would meet every requirement much needed for the welfare & progress of the environment and citizens. Besides watering the crop etc. it has become extremely necessary to have a modification which could also cater for the global warming effect by giving a suitable cloud cover, getting the moisture from the Northern side rather the SW. The monsoon season, as its purpose, need deliver gentle rains /drizzle worthy enough to be considered an act of sanctification; to soothe the parched mind with joy of nature after the torrid summer heat. Nature will never bring harm by way of loss of life & property— work of Nature is always to bring joy, hope & contentment.

Normally, after the summer heat spell of April-May, the ideal monsoon system design should maintain the average day-temperature suitably to remain below 30°C during June to Sept. Super-senior citizens prefer about 32°C. This year our country experienced WILD Fires in the forest regions of Uttarkhand (UK) but the same was soon neutralized by nature by bringing in moisture from the 'Peripheral' influx. Next time, such phenomena could trigger automatically before the point of ignition — as a preventive action programmable by nature (for UK) to protect the greenery. California, in USA too became a victim of this type of a predator and India can offer them a solution as 'Made in India' — to prevent such disasters. We need tap every type of intellect within, as a part of our HRD initiative; to derive & deliver newer possibilities to help human enjoy better life, than being mere spectators & helpless?

Remember: whilst desperately praying, desiring or performing yagnas (various austerities) for Rains or for any other purpose — whenever one becomes the doer she/he will also have to bear its consequences i.e. take the sins of such deeds caused by instilling rains or displacing psychic energy ignorantly. The redemption period of suffering from such incurred sins could continue for a long time depending upon the quantum of damage inflicted upon environment/ society. Because: nature is very fair & unbiased, it will support the virtuous only. Otherwise, one can reach the satanic reservoir for such assistance. Today the (Era) is over for such forces?

Just like we tame our body & mind towards a healthier living similarly the old /outdated monsoon systems could be modified towards more 'purposeful deliverances' to suit our current requirements. Indeed, more control achievable would require getting into a more closer proximity with nature, which is only possible by demonstrating righteous conduct in life — there is no short cut in the route for getting closer with God /nature. One may have millions of followers or a be great sage of modern repute, but, God is least concerned. He is well aware of everything and weighs one by the quantum of virtuous deeds performed, alone.

The worldwide scientific community must not remain glued to weather patterns /happenings what they had been accustomed due past occurrences surrounding them; there is a dire need today to welcome newer possibilities instead of remaining rigid, obscured and ignorant. The problem which happened long back was that — in the wild pursuit towards scientific discoveries & achievements using the intellect faculty mainly; the masses swayed far away from the source of origin to get lost and conquered by Maya (Illusion & delusive forces such as sex, anger, attachment, greed, lust, name, fame, positions, distractions & temptations etc. are all components of Maya). Do not go after Maya and you will see Maya coming after you because it is so designed by natural & created circumstances to deceive. Indeed, the creator had created Maya to serve as a tool in this huge playground but the Satanic forces got substantial grip over such energy, and, they yet continue to use the same at its 'Will' to deprive us from our truer substance of unlimited Bounty of Ecstasy. This 'Will' of the demonic forces must be cleverly identified & avoided, if cannot be neutralized, so as to regain and remain in constant union with the Divine/Creator. One need understand that our most basic essence is Ananda (Bliss) and we are continuously striving hard each day to experience a higher form of Bliss by modifying our lives & needs endlessly in this playground, where we are trapped.

We need to get free from every worldly-bondage in order to reach & begin bathing in the divine nectar (amrit-ras) to realize our true lost-identity: This is the trick of play in our playground otherwise the power of Maya is endless and its associated barren/ joyless journey remains indescribable. The true purpose of value oriented spirituality (Vedic science) is to enable one extract that portion of spirituality and suitably deploy its Energy to help rescue human from the clutches of misery. But mostly, even wise ones — use the other segment; i.e. the escape formula to get away from this world ASAP using the Redemption technique, when sustenance gets tougher. After Salvation, instead of heading towards redemption; the course needs to revert back to the mainstream of society to enjoy selfless service towards betterment of everything around you as long as your physical body is healthy & capable enough — thereafter let God decide the point of Redemption, as professed by Sri Aurobindo. The purpose of integrating spiritual wisdom into each article is to emphasize the need to understand the importance of this elite science which has been eluding and depriving us from higher pursuits, thereby enabling life to be better lived, as long as we continue in the present form of bodily /worldly existence.

ABSENCE OF WINTER RAINS [Rev.no. 11 -- 23 Nov.2016]

Normally moisture laden clouds from the West (known as Western Disturbances *) arrive into India during the period of November to March which bring Rain into North India favourable for Rabi crops and also has its various other advantages. Observations from recent satellite imageries, shown as a sketch, clearly indicates that the Western mausam is instead deviating upwards (Northward) as shown by the Red arrows thereby bypassing India without blessing the needed rains required in winter. [Clouds shown by dark patched].

This is very misfortunate and a serious change of nature's play for India as such phenomena would not be favourable for the country. Similarly, the lower portion of India is also being BYPASSED as shown by the cloud-travel towards East moving south of the Indian peninsula, leaving India deprived from rains.

The function of Meteorological department is to observe weather and make predictions only, but NOT to create weather; no matter how long and hard one draws at the isobar charts. Those ignorant ones who attempt using psychic control, selfish-prayers & penances to get rains would always remain a loser to bear the burden of sins when the effect of their desires become a cause to result floods, & disasters due to the effect of any uncontrolled rains.

The Weather Systems are created and controlled by nature in accordance to Laws of Nature. Whenever the Laws of nature gets disturbed either due to wrong actions, inactions, willfully or inadvertently, made on part of the governance/ public (human mind) would setup an imbalance within the 'Natural Systems' of nature which would result in such undesirable occurrences to bring in dismay & misery. But indeed, one could get such suitable things done by a process under perfect coordination with Nature for which one need ascend to higher planes of Consciousness — in order to get into a closer proximity with God and thereafter get the good work achieved.

* Western Disturbances: the name given to a nature's Rain-system as a disturbance is not good. Every name has a meaning and its associated effect. The appropriate authority must consider revising this name to Western Mausam or Weather or Rains etc. The word 'Disturbance' is something undesirable — a more pleasant name would be very wise & suitable from every respect towards the welfare and progress of India. Undo whatever has been done wrong in past — is the need.

Moreover, there is also a hidden purpose veiled behind weather system failures or such undesirable deviations sometimes, as executed by nature. Nature /God is our parent who also likes to put up such newer tests & challenges before the human especially in this era of much boasted scientific capabilities acquired by modern science; to make us realize that it is not sufficient, and that — there is much more obscured knowledge available which need be explored and deployed to unveil higher realms of nature's wonders & beatitude leading towards greater bounties of Joy & contentment.

This is just like each country trains their athletes each year and then they put them up before an international tournament to judge the best, as a play. This life is by itself a similar play. One need to learn the art to play it well.

Recent observation made by Professor Stephan Hawking, a British eminent scientist, who has professed that aliens may destroy our planet using powerful bacteria & viruses as indicated by his article at: https://www.yahoo.com/tech/don-t-pack-bags-yet-160012348.html?soc_src=social-sh&soc_trk=ma

Quote: “More likely, aliens that could crash our planet partly would be in the form of a virus or bacteria hitching a ride amidst the “100 tons of dust and sand-sized particles” by which the planet is bombarded every day, according to NASA.”

This also endorses that the future war within our planet or invasion from outer space would not be with nuclear power or Laser /Plasma guns as the star-wars' propositions, as it appears to have become obsolete now. Moreover, this aspect is also confirmed by the fact that nuclear/atom bombs are well outdated weaponry used about 70 years back against Japan, and that such nuclear arsenal has become redundant/ useless since no one could use it after the world war in 1945. Spirit power can be very precisely guided to affect the intended portion with pin-point accuracy and without any collateral damages /mass destruction. Henceforth future armaments would contain suitable deployment of Spiritual sciences; its various allied weaponry & applications to play a major role in deciding the destiny of our planet. Every microscopic substance is also an ingredient of the 'Spirit stuff/ energy'

Every evil on this planet could be disabled with such 'Specialized sciences'; who would however be made to continue to live in the world under misery due to their sins which they deserve: this is also a Commandment of Nature.

That is why it is very essential to start reviving every knowledge & application in regard to this latent science of Spirit Energy — about which India was the master, once upon a time. [There are various applications with regard to suitable deployment of Spirit energy, intensive research has been conducted over the past 35 years to place all these aspects herein].

Such 'Specialized Sciences' which normally remain veiled need be explored as this could enable human capability both at war & peace to help public avail such bounties of nature by suitable deployment of such elite sciences. India had a very good grip over such wisdom of Spirit-Power long back which has apparently become extinct due reasons but it is yet available for access and deployment by anyone who can tap the technique — it is time now to revive those latent values and deploy such needed applications for the welfare & progress of the Planet. The so termed modern science of today will soon be replaced by suitable consortiums of veiled/ ancient sciences' wisdom. By virtue of such 'Art & Skill' — in terms of an amalgamation process of conventional science with Spiritual sciences; under control of nature, would become the latest Modern science for tomorrow — this is the way the world / evolutionary process goes on, upper and higher i.e. from a lower to higher consciousness. Even during the Mahabharata war about 5000 years ago; the use of spiritual weaponry outperformed the conventional armament which gained victory for the Pandavas — but under the guidance & control of Lord Krishna who was a true manifestation of God, at that time.

This year (2106) the normal SW monsoon was delayed, abrupt and destructive. At the same time a new system known as Peripheral monsoon and Northerly mausam had been engaged using spirit-sciences to bless North India with early monsoon. Similarly, suitable modification of the westerly system for winter can be accomplished which can be made to move eastward into India rather than deviating north and depriving our country from Rains.

Next year Chandigarh and adjoining area would enjoy the beginning of monsoon by about the 1st of June 2017 which has been so pre-programmed in conjunction with nature by making use of peripheral monsoon & Northern mausam influx; established using the specialized sciences under perfect control with nature, as described earlier in this article.

Moreover, if so desired in winter: the Northern Mausam system could also be engaged to make it snow in North India — for this aspect, a little more effort and approval would be required from/ by the kind cooperation of the masses.

Life is very precious which must be lived with due respect to the laws of Nature (Truth) and Righteousness if a higher platform need be envisaged to avail the hidden bounties of nature. Nature is welcoming us with opportunity to reach God / higher regions of Consciousness and enjoy her embedded merits. The wise citizenry must not stagnate with the present, but Grab it!

Cyclone Vardah disaster [Rev.12 -- 28 Dec 16]

The recent Cyclone which struck Tamil Nadu (TN) caused immense damage to both life & property besides the hundreds of precious trees which got uprooted, amounting to a great loss. With modern scientific capabilities we could observe the Cyclone about two days in advance before it crossed the coastline and battered TN but our conventional science could not find a way to prevent the undesirable occurrence. Spiritual science contains the wisdom as to how to deal with such adversaries. Just remaining mere spectators haplessly watching was a practice what primitive humans did long back: Why not we now explore other means to tackle such predators /adversities? Solutions lie buried within the ambit of `specialized sciences`. The process of human evolution demands that we meticulously research upon every hidden possibility accessible within us to promote the quality of our life upon Earth.

We need to learn the art of transcending beyond the bondages of our acquired capabilities. In fact, by now, we should have been intermingling with other galaxies, containing similar worlds, sharing each other's skills & resources but our self-imposed limitedness has gripped our mind to remain restricted within our tiny intellect faculty. The need now is to learn the art about deployment of celestial machines which could be used to reduce the distance between our nearest cosmic neighborhoods. It is possible to have this done, India has capability to get this done.

Chandigarh winter Rain blessing this season:

The Met. office issued a bulletin on 24th Dec 2016 that there would be no rains for Chandigarh in the next few days, but: the residents of Chandigarh were surprised next day on 25th Christmas early morning with high voltage activity in the sky comprising of lightening & thunder followed by sanctified rains for several hours. There was no water logging, floods or any havoc just pleasant drizzle to cheer the residents with God's Christmas surprise-gift. Chandigarh badly needed rain as it had not rained for the past few months. Such rain nourishes the soil, removes pollution, refills the lake and has many other benefits. The technique used was Worm-hole transfer, as seen in the sketch. The rain/ moisture clouds were imported from deep China side. Why the moisture laden clouds were drawn in from a distant place would need the study of 'Specialized sciences' as it is a play & decision of God. We need good deeds for our prayers to reach God and thereafter it is upto Nature how it wants to respond. The Creator does respond; but, only when we work sufficiently to deserve. Much more can be availed. Even men & material can be transported using such sophisticated celestial machines.

Chandigarh Rains v/s ~ TN drought [Rev. 13 21 Jan 17]

This winter Chandigarh experienced phenomenal Rains on 6 & 7th Jan 2017 whereas the normal seasonal rains for Tamil Nadu was absent leading it to be declared as a drought state? Such deviations from a normal pattern is not just a matter of chance but also a play of the ignorant human mind. One need to know the working and flow of spirit-energy (prana) in this world which has direct relationship with the mind i.e. its link with wisdom, power & control over the mind. The purpose of this article is to enable one understand the need about power of the spirit, its properties & characteristics, to deploy the same towards better applications most suitable for our planet today. Conventional life style has limited answers to such problems created by the desirous /agitating mind(s) as it cannot solve the problems conventionally or otherwise. Precise responses will only arrive when one breaks away from the bondages & limitations of one's acquired intellectual faculty. The power which runs the entire cosmos is basically in spirit form, in fact this whole cosmos has evolved out of spirit-energy, and, by the power & control over the spirit — not by scientific tools alone but also associated skills of the human machine, well in conjunction with God. If one does not have correct understanding about its functions, then one must not use it aimlessly as it could do damage instead.

It had not rained for the past few months except for one day i.e. last Christmas during the end of the year which accumulated a lot of desperation within a section of public who were eagerly looking out for Rains and its associated snow fall, in north India. Because of this factor of Desire, immense agitation within the human mind(s) increased to a very large extent which was significantly vibrant enough towards displacing spirit-energy causing undue disturbances in its ambience bringing unprecedented changes to upset a portion of India's ecosystem. This winter (Nov.2016-2017) the Western disturbances failed to deliver rains for India from west due to reason already mentioned hence the desire factor of the public caused the augmentation of desire oriented dynamic spirit-energy work-force within the country's system.

This energy displacement due to human desire was so strong that it managed to deviate the normal seasonal flow of North-Easterly winds from the Bay of Bengal towards Tamil Nadu. Instead the wind flow pattern changed and started moving towards west carrying along with it some moisture across Bihar & UP. Thereafter the flow pattern changed its course northward towards Chandigarh/ Shimla. A part of it went past Delhi towards Rajasthan. This gathered moisture over northern part of India moving the same upward into China, as shown by blue arrows. Here the accumulated water laden clouds got mixed with the super-cooled moisture arriving along-with the 'deviated' western disturbances, as shown by red arrows. The result was build-up of intensified dense-moisture laden clouds over China. Consequently, on the 6th Jan 2017, the accumulated cloud system over China moved downward S/SW (210°) towards Chandigarh bringing in rain and also heavy snowfall in the region around Shimla, as shown by the green arrow. It also rained sparsely in Delhi/ NCR on 07/01/17 and at

Rajasthan which was the only spell of rain for Delhi during past few months due to the weak & deviated Western Rain system (WD)

This human-made energy displacement was also a cause to have changed the direction of a seasonal system. That is why it is very much emphasized that one must refrain from practicing such strong desires using mind /psychic powers i.e. undue displacement of energy forces — performed either willfully or ignorantly. Whenever an individual or a group of people become the cause of such changes; they are bound to err due to human limitations. The wise ones would always engage God/ Nature whenever such mighty environmental tasks need be envisaged which are well beyond human intellect, capability & control: i.e. towards modifications or additions of natural weather systems, as God the creator has unlimited intelligence as well as energy at its disposal.

The effect of such ignorant deeds are also termed as errors in life which accumulate within one's inbuilt human sin-reservoir and later one has to undergo its consequences at a time decided by nature, there is no redemption from the same howsoever one may try. Ignorance has no place in this world.

One need to first get well conversant with Nature's creative mechanism i.e. specialized sciences / precious scriptures, both theoretically & practically, as early as possible in life to make things better, easier & more enjoyable by transforming life towards higher planes of consciousness. Why the scriptures are described as 'specialized science' is because that it is not easy to lay your hands upon them i.e to get proper grips with the same, besides the fact that they are the most precious tools for human progress and performance. If one can read/perceive and understand them properly it can lead you towards salvation (Phase I). Thereafter, one need to practice that acquired wisdom in life whilst remaining in this world, to fully understand its purpose & relevance in a 'professional field of action' (Phase II). Most of the spiritual teachers/Gurus these days we notice giving good sermons on spirituality but they remain limited to Phase I only unless they themselves work as doctors, engineers, scientists etc i.e. within the mainstream of society and preach to prove that wisdom practically; to qualify towards the end of second phase. They must now shed their robes & cloaks to work as the common folks. Only then, their present 'being' would transform them onto a higher being after practiced their acquired wisdom (gyan). This is what lord Rama & Krishna demonstrated: the later preached wisdom to Arjuna and made him practice the same in life to achieve that higher standard and true meaning of life. Remain in the world but do not be worldly, detach from worldliness and work truthfully to uplift humanity by removing evil forces which prevent acquiring higher forms of Joy & contentment. This aspect is not possible from Satanic effects. Asura powers will only get you sensual joys which are limited & temporary, by stagnating your evolutionary progress. Whereas, firmly adhering to truth & righteousness to promote the same is the higher objective of human life, otherwise you remain as demons trying to enjoy and feast over your own created falsehoods.

Moreover, indeed during the present winter some streaks of moisture had crept in from West out of the deviated (WD) but without containing significant weather to deliver rains for North India]. Later, on 15th Jan 2017, the so expected western weather (WD) moved into India partially from west on the 14/15th for the first time, but with a feeble impact. These patches of clouds got mixed with the deviated WD north of Shimla resulting as a combined effect on 16 Jan morning; with slight drizzle in & around Chandigarh as an effect from the edge of a deviated WD hovering over the Himalayas. But, the main portion of the deviated WD accumulated over the mountains, as an effect of its substantial rain-cloud content, pounded Shimla and the hilly belt around it with heavy rain/snowfall. As a result, Shimla and its adjoining area went without electricity power and water for more than a week with heavy snow accumulations rendering public life extremely miserable all mainly because of the unwarranted desires and unjustified will-power / psychic engagements.

Net result of manipulating the weather system by the ignorant mind(s) was:

- i. WD got deviated depriving North India of winter Rains this season.
- ii. N/NE rains for TN was made absent leading to a drought.
- iii. Amounted heavy losses in terms of damage to life, property & discomfort to public due to very heavy snowfall in the hilly areas.

Whenever God sets-in a weather system the nature's inbuilt mechanism automatically takes care to ensure everything smooth & fine with a wider intellect, based upon universally well-oriented perspective. Indeed, there is a growing demand to seek higher forms of Joy for making living more joyous comfortable & purposeful, as a normal tendency of the never ending quest of the mind which keeps on groping for more and more bliss/happiness. But for that more work is also needed — with respect to augmenting human capability.

As one ascends to higher planes of Consciousness the awareness & proximity with regard to Goodness & God increases which help enable understand the 'cause & effect ' of spirit-energy and its associated management. Having well understood the same one will dare not make any such great/ selfish desires. Closer proximity with God can make the Creator/nature do the necessary job or modifications with its natural system meant for the welfare & progress of every life on planet. God will always heed to our needs unless we are expecting too much which we do not deserve. In fact God is much more keen to help us to transform our lives and lifestyle, as long as we remain on the correct path.

One may continue as long as one feels to remain away from the right track, groping under darkness but ultimately one will realize the difference when time would demand them with necessity to change over to the better side of life, in complete harmony with the Creator who has created this universe with certain objectives. Indeed, earlier such things used to happen i.e. some could easily make it rain, evil could triumph etc but that was a different era where Satanic forces prevailed and that type of a 'derived energy' was deployed. But that has now diminished; today the primary source, as a storehouse of energy, has now shifted — towards the higher domains of truthfulness and righteousness.

In fact, today when we look at our need in terms of countering pollution and global warming, it would be very much purposeful to somehow find newer possibilities by way of which we can successfully make it rain over Delhi and most of our country after every few days to keep such adversaries & adversities under control, as happening with other countries? If you look at the satellite images in respect to the South east Asia regions you would notice the cloud systems continuously supplying them with bounties of precipitation as a routine way of nature. This is what we can achieve by remaining & working in conjunction with nature and availing the requisite Divine intercessions as explained in the 'Transformation update' post at this site: www.divinekripa.in

The normal Western weather system so-called 'Western Disturbances' (WD) which brings in rain from the West during November to March-April has failed to deliver India with its output as a major part of it had got deviated away from its normal course of travel into North India due to reasons already mentioned. As a result, North-India availed only about 5 days of good rains whereas India should have got sufficient rains at least once a week during the 6-month period of November to April — to cater for the various requirements.

Summary:

On 25-26th Dec. 2016, Chandigarh received a good spell of rain/snow.

On 25/26 Jan 2017 the accumulated weather over North India moved down south extending to about 20th parallel of Latitude (20°N) bringing in heavy snowfall/ rainfall over North India.

On 27th Jan17, a rare indication with regard to transfer of moisture from south India to NE along the coast was observed using the worm-hole technique, whereas rest of India remained with a clear sky. Only a narrow worm-like appearance of cloud movement could be seen, as shown, as an obvious indication as a hope for us to believe that this type of a celestial machine could be useful to transfer moisture /rain bearing clouds from one region to another using the wonderful worm-hole technique.

The month of March remained absent from rains ?

On 4/5 Apr. a weak WD moved in with feeble rain on 5 Feb. morning.

It rained about 7 mm at Chandigarh on 7/8 Apr. along with heavy snowing in Kashmir + rain in Shimla caused damage to crop, loss of life & property. Several trees were uprooted in Chandigarh due accompanied strong winds. This indicates the work of satanic forces.

Only a little Rain occurred on 22 Apr at about 0230 am shower/thunder but strong winds uprooting trees, again a work of satanic forces. Also a some Rain occurred on 27 Apr morning at Chandigarh & on 30 Apr. morning at Delhi.

ESTABLISHMENT OF A NEW RAIN SYSTEM

As already quoted in the previous (revised) article of Bulletin No. 6 on page 25 [Rev.no. 11 -- 23 Nov.2016] : a new Rain system (Northerly Mausam) for North India has now been successfully established by the grace of God which would commence formation of a mini monsoon by 1st June 2017.

This weather system would mainly suffice to provide relief from the summer heat which was soaring beyond 45°C. Residents of North India would need to do more work in order to gain added advantages & benefits of the same.

Everything in this colossal cosmos works with control over the spirit-mind to reach the main powerhouse i.e. the realms of God from where precious energy could be availed for suitable deployment in perfect coordination with the Creator. The most indubitable, easiest & safest option towards this objective is to increase the factor of truthfulness in our lives and surrender before God for guidance & help. Residents on Earth need to accept a civilized life in order to make every living — more joyous, wonderful & more purposeful on this planet.

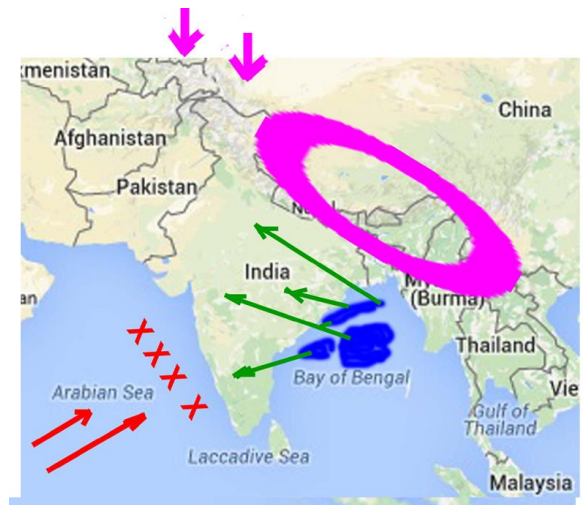

Last year the SW monsoon got delayed and then inflicted intense damage to life & property; as an untamed monsoon. Subsequently the cyclonic storm over Tamil Nadu followed by a drought incurred relief payment of Rs. 2000 crores. Both these aspects could have been prevented by virtue of proper applications with regard to 'Specialized Sciences'. This year too the same may recur for which timely actions need be envisaged & requisite actions initiated.

Design & Make in India? If India is successful in getting this innovative weather system i.e. Northerly Mausam suitably introduced to offset global warming then it would be also possible to design, make and transfer such weather systems to needed locations. This would be a great leap towards unveiling & deployment of hidden values & potential within nature. It all amounts to: as to who has how much power & control over the spirit energy and how the same can be engaged to change the entire lifestyle on this Planet towards a new dimension amid our stagnated evolutionary process. Awareness & purpose of God 'within' is to enable us explore 'outside' The role of 'dynamics & purpose of nature' within our daily lives need be well understood so that it may be introduced more practically to enlighten & emphasize the importance of nature — by demonstrating the same before the ignorant world.

The onset & progress of Monsoon has been entirely different this year because natures' products and our environment are being changed, by its Creator:

1. The normal /routine influx of South-West Monsoon (SW) failed to arrive into India this season from the Arabian Sea, as of today. Shown in the sketch by RED arrows & xxxxx)

2. Instead, a low-pressure system got developed in the Bay of Bengal (shown in BLUE patches) which generated sufficient moisture/clouds that swept into India from East (as shown with green arrows). As a result of easterly winds the system started drawing moisture/ clouds from East & far East, as analyzed using synoptic, WvW, CMV, and upper-wind charts etc.

The same is also confirmed by satellite imagery. This occurrence predominantly lasted throughout till date which brought relief in terms of some rains but mainly provided a cloud layer to shield India from intense summer heat. Updated satellite imagery is also available at: <http://satellite.imd.gov.in/insat.htm>

3. This season another strange Oval shaped Accretion disc could be observed in action as shown by the magenta display which hovered in a circular/oval shaped formation over India, Himalayas & China which kept creating and distributing moisture/ weather in certain regions, to be explained later.

4. But such unusual occurrence this year certainly calls for contemplation and concern for residents of India i.e. as to why did the SW monsoon fail to arrive this season, this far? Moreover, why last winter north India experienced partial failure of the routine WD influx from West. It was fortunate that nature anticipated the flaw and made an alternate/ countermove to partially neutralize the effect of SW system failure by supplementing weather from East along cold weather inputs from North of India as shown by Magenta arrows (although with short bursts) which cooled northern India bringing down the temperature to about 20°C (OAT) in June & making the month very pleasant. The active participation of common public is very much essential for the development & evolutionary progress of any nation. This is an essential built-in design of Nature/ God.

5. In the last update i.e. Rev.14 of this bulletin it was predicted/mentioned that this year (2017) for the first time North Indians would experience an early mini-monsoon setting in for North India — mainly Chandigarh by the 1st June using northerly and peripheral inputs — and this indeed happened so as a result of which the entire month of June was very comfortable with occasional rains instead of the routine hot & sultry conditions. In order to avail more such Divine blessings a collective approach need be made by public with objective of achieving environmental transformation thereby enabling the public of a region obtain greater forms of Joy and plentitude.
6. For month of July the Met/ IMD had predicted with great confidence that the routine SW monsoon would arrive on schedule but it failed because nature moved aside to show them that their prediction may not come true to make us all realize that rains /clouds /monsoon are heavenly products controlled by nature* and not by human alone. Weather, climate, clouds, rain, winds, direction, heat, cold etc are nature's products which mainly need Divine inputs to work alongside our effort. Moreover, last winter the WD changed its course and bypassed north India but yet IMD did not apprise the public? Later in June some weather crept in from West but that does not mean it was a residual of the failed WD. Whenever a significant climatic/ environmental change takes place it is duty of country's administrative authorities to inform public as soon as possible who could in turn setup a corrective force automatically by virtue of them being mini-gods to help optimize various available resources. One must learn the art to respect & revere the various products of nature* instead of calling a valuable rain delivering system as a 'Disturbance' (Western Disturbance).
7. Similarly, this monsoon season, till 28th July, the SW weather system remained absent but IMD did not publish the same before the public? What would happen if IMD or any such agency is truthful before the public, why is the fear? The public consists of a great potential of energy by itself which can setup suitable counter forces to bring in the much better days needed for this planet. We need to understand that there is something known as the Creator of this universe who has created everything in and around our Planet-earth with some intentions. People misunderstood/ misinterpreted Spiritual science long back and misused whatever little they had perceived earlier as a result of which this elite science disappeared. At the beginning of civilization it was difficult to grasp this wisdom and it was even much more difficult to bring the same into purposeful applications. Whatever little knowledge people have about Spirit-science today is just to roll the ball with regard to our daily lives. Comprehensive study of this precious science is essential to avail widespread advantages and moving ahead towards unveiling hidden mysteries within our precious nature*.

The disappearance of spiritual wisdom was also an act of God and now we have arrived at a stage when we need to understand and re-engage that lost science. Without perusal of the same it is impossible to move ahead because the effect of ignorance has created too many problems within the natural-ness of our planet & amid our ignorant lives. The same need be recovered by approaching God the Creator at the earliest. Nature wants us evolve/ reach it for help, but for that we need to first learn Vedic science & allied wisdom. Thereafter, its practice within our daily lives would enable us with requisite possibility of arriving at a closer relationship/proximity with the Creator. God has designed it like that and everything which does not mend that way will perish in the present era. Last winter's WD weather system failure and this year's undesirable monsoon, is a clear indication of an effect which also caused drying up of various lakes/ reservoirs. It be well understood that purposeful energy deployment towards creating weather systems are possible by nature*. We can together design to make any type of weather to rain at any time to suit us, but it has to be done in conjunction with Nature (God), not alone; please be very clear about this.

It takes tedious years of immense study, almost a lifetime's effort, to get substantial understanding about Spiritual-science /nature* and, thereafter its application into action would further require a colossal effort. That is why it is strongly suggested that a very simple way is prescribed in the 'Transformation Update' at this site. Just try it out and see how one can get nature to work more rapidly/ noticeably for our welfare & progress.

People responsible to bring relief to the public by their administrative controls are the ones who would incur heavy sins if they fail to correct the various past errors and provide the public with everything that pertains to the principles of Truth & laws of Righteousness because that is the way for future progress. Such design for the present period has been established by God — one need to learn and tread along that correct way or face the wrath of nature. Time has changed: the corrupt and wicked ones have to be corrected by bringing them before justice — as a will and the way of God, so featured for our better future. But, if one chooses to remain stuck under past inertia then one must wait and watch the show before the eyes.

One need to get good grips with knowledge about various functions of mind & matter, dark energy & dark matter. Also it is extremely important to learn about Maya, Jiva, Jivatma, Atma, Paramatma for which requisite knowledge could also be obtained from the Vedas, Upanishads and various ancient scriptures. Thereafter that information/knowledge is to be efficiently practiced within our daily lives for transforming our present being; only thereafter one can understand and reach higher planes i.e. towards the ultimate. One may spend countless hours upon research using test-tubes and laboratories but such effort to reach the Divine will always remain futile — one need to explore every possible way to experience God stuff within. There is no other way out, it is tough but that is the only way made so by the Creator. You need not have satellite images and various other instruments or isobar charts to predict monsoon — just reach those higher levels and you can easily experience every play of Nature 'within'.

Whatever is conceived/ perceived or manufactured within can also get projected outside-you in space to take necessary shapes & forms? This is the greatest advantage & wonder of Specialized Sciences. The ignorant world/people who moved away from exploring this elite wisdom when it became too tough to grasp; need now get back in pursuit of the same to experience 'that' more enjoyable portion of our life contained within higher planes of consciousness. Otherwise, without 'that' objective indeed one always has the choice to return back empty handed from where one had come long back, but that too has a tough proviso. Today the era has changed, the time-period for tricks & foul-play has ended. The source from which Spirit-Energy influx could be obtained towards achieving various suitable applications has been transferred to another section of a power storage-house which is contained & controlled better within the domains of truth, fair-play & purity (evolution). Attained conventional science and humankind need to revolve & evolve around another higher resource now onward — which would yield a more correct way of life as established by the Creator for the purpose of “continuation of life upon this Planet”. This is achievable by using human wisdom & experience within, and outside; by making full use and consultations with valuable scriptures, as a referral. The whole objective of human life is to arise higher and higher to continue availing higher experiences & forms of Joy, both spiritually & materialistically, and, to extract precious substances along higher skills within nature; making it possible to modify our planet as a better place to live in, instead of groping under darkness and aiming at redemption alone.

The various types of Clouds present within our atmosphere are formations as a result of spirit-energy, created either ignorantly or willfully by us i.e. nature* in and around us. But to make clouds move in a certain direction requires another type of such energy and to make clouds precipitate down as rain again requires a different type of energy. Lack of complete control over such energy could make clouds to form but they may float away like it is happening today at many places. Moreover, this season all the weather is arriving into India from East instead of West i.e. not by the South-west monsoon system; this will have a different effect upon India/ planet, which time will show. If no rain occurs over a region for more than 7 consecutive days, it may not be termed as a normal monsoon season. If it is either raining too much or too little at a place; it be considered as a work of the devil/ satanic forces. An IDEAL monsoon should commence in June all over India and thereafter it should mainly remain cloudy with suitable /desirable rains every few days to fetch relief from the summer heat, effects of global warming and avail various other benefits.

Lack of control over this type of an “application of energy” i.e. over the formation of clouds and its associated suitable precipitation: would result either as drought at some places or excessive downpour causing floods, havoc and misery. Such errors must be detected & suitably rectified using wisdom & skill with application of every possible science. Control over such creative energy is an automatic process of Nature, yet, in conjunction with human output; i.e. upon desire & deeds of citizens within a region. One must not remain under an impression or under the cloud of ignorance that nature is bound to deliver us clouds & rain as it was happening in past routine i.e just like the fixed rhythmic celestial display of heavenly objects.

Do not remain convinced by theories (like El Nino effect) to be a cause of variation in cloud formation, its movement or rain due to ocean warming as a cause of climate change. Pre-historic records reveal that India had droughts in many places “for years” even without global warming because the variable products of nature such as clouds, winds, rain etc. are an outcome mainly as a result out of human deeds? If human deeds are unsatisfactory as required for a normal evolutionary process; Nature’s contribution will automatically cease or lean away resulting misery due to misdeeds upon that part of citizenry. Hence, it is very important for the administrative authorities to correct the wrong doers by bringing them to justice as early as possible — well demonstrated by Nature time and again.

To get into a closer understanding with the Creator of this colossal cosmos and get better grips over the complete process of creating appropriate type of clouds, getting them over a needed location and suitably diffusing the same to make it rain requires adequate knowledge & practice with regard to Gyan-yoga, Karam-yoga, Bhakti-yoga & Raja-yoga. Whereas, the finer portion of Rajyogic science is an extremely precarious subject which is a difficult course of discipline for understanding. This should be practiced ONLY under approval & conjunction with God (with integration of extreme higher rungs of Consciousness) otherwise there are too many types of problems. God has designed it like that to prevent easy access and misuse.

Please do not take it for granted that all which used to happen earlier would continue happening in future also. An ERA change has taken place where the source of energy supply mainly vests within the positive side of lifestyle. Days of negativity i.e. satanic energy powerhouse is becoming redundant (diminishing). Henceforth the ones with virtuous deeds would be able to prevail more comfortably whereas the crooked & evil ones would begin experiencing the effects of nature to make them understand the beginning of their end, as a part of evolution. This phenomenon is an effect of Maya & Yoga-Maya — so designed by the Creator. The unlimited Power+Ananda (bliss) of SUPREME-SOUL cannot be seen or explained but an infinitesimal glimpse

 nature: The word nature used in this site means prakriti. This is the result as an effect of spirit-energy created & controlled by God/Nature/Creator (parusha) which also uses inputs from the residents of this planet as a contributory /participative process, so designed by the Creator. Human beings are also mini-gods as they possess within them a substance called god-stuff (soul/atma) but would always remain limited with respect to acquired consciousness i.e. intelligence, power & capability. Human beings have a choice whether to return/merge back to its point of origin or proceed towards higher planes.*

Human consciousness can continuously evolve towards higher & higher planes of consciousness if one seeketh to accomplish great wonders for the welfare of life upon earth. Such individual would be required to undergo extreme hardships & sacrifices for the sake of truth & righteousness. But, yet, the design of God's play is such that even if one reaches high levels the individual would be constrained to remain guided — to desist from every temptation and only make God decide and be the doer, with respect to any supernatural task much required for continuation of life upon this weary planet. The purpose of introducing spirit-science in this article is to indicate that the time has arrived for our wiser citizenry to envisage the necessity towards exploring & extracting latent values stored deep within the chests of precious wisdom — for making it possible to avail the much needed engagement of Divine in order to make life more comfortable & purposeful on this planet.

Art of Creation of Weather [Rev.17 21 Sept. 17]

Conventional science has been fairly effective with regard to observation, prediction & collecting data pertaining to formation of weather systems, rain & their associated effects upon our planet earth. It is now time for weather pundits & scientists to discover latent possibilities beyond present limitations; i.e. look towards getting grips about attaining a technique with regard to creating weather, the correct way. We need to explore as to what 'actually' causes the creation of weather i.e. how & why weather /clouds get created in a certain manner as observed in the skies. This venture would able humankind improve upon gathered wisdom pertaining to meteorology towards transforming every life upon our Earth.

When meteorologists refer to a certain weather system /cloud pattern or rain, stating unclearly that, "it occurred as a result due to a low pressure" at a certain region — is not enough now. We must now know what has caused such LOW pressure to form or to have taken a certain shape over a region. Similarly we need to learn the technique to neutralize the impending effect of a low, depression, cyclone over a region so as to avoid its devastation due to storms, floods and also which causes uncontrollable immense damage to life and property every year.

Our human capability must be able to create a LOW pressure area and also capable to move winds in a certain direction most suitable so as to be able to design & create weather of our choice with objective to avail more effective weather systems needed. In other words, it is time now to evolve beyond our present achievement of predictions & guesswork. Be more professional, precise and determined to explore every new possibility hidden deep within nature's garb of wisdom, bounties & wonders. Effort is required to correlate and deploy wisdom pertaining to Vedic & conventional science suitably under the blending of perfect harmony towards more desirable solutions which are needed for onward evolutionary progress with respect to every life upon our Earth / planet.

The ill-effects of Global warming & untamed weather could increase our misery beyond expectations in future, which need be mitigated, either by:

- i. Creating a protective cloud shield between Sun & Earth or
- ii. A process by which the intensity of Sun heat radiation/ generation output could be reduced, i.e. something like an oven regulator, but that may not be possible at this moment. (although this is also possible)

Hence an easier possibility within reach of accessible wisdom be sought to successfully obtain skill/ capability by which it could be possible to create weather/clouds in order to protect us from the summer heat and also enable us avail its various other associated benefits in the most desirable, suitable & optimum manner. In fact, present circumstances reveal that Nature had designed our lives & world such; that, we toil very hard to find a remedy to every problem for which:

- a) One has to first get grips with that wisdom by which one could approach towards the Creator — the master-player hiding within us.

- b) Then find God the Creator.
- c) Then interact with Him suitably: this is possible by virtue of either intense study of ancient scriptures or thru direct perception technique, indeed the latter is tougher.
- d) Thereafter it could be possible to acquire requisite technique to develop a constant covenant-ship with the Creator by which we could together succeed in creating an innovative process within our human system in the form of perceptible & valuable Energy-Power.
- e) one need realize the art of transferring that created precious Energy to manifest outside for suitable applications, but only under perfect coalition & guidance of God, never alone because our capability & intellect will always remain limited although our soul is a part of the Supreme Soul. The creator has made it like that; i.e. there is no way to change it as we are a part of Him, all are destined to return.

Every scripture has indicated the path of redemption/mukti as the OBJECTIVE of life either before, or after obtaining salvation/ moksha — as a routine way of life. Lot many evolved people quit the world to join ashrams to tread their final path towards availing mukti as a respite from worldly impact & endless problems. Great sages so decided and went away at early age. Maybe it was so designed that way by god for that period of time. But a century back it seems that Sri Aurobindo correctly professed the idea of a different path after salvation which would also in addition; transform every life upon this planet — by continuing collective human effort towards higher planes of consciousness from where one could avail Divine intercessions i.e. from that platform from where precious Divine Spirit-Energy could be released/ unleashed upon our planet as a blessing much required towards the necessary transformation.

Spirit energy is the life force for every existence on earth & entire cosmos (brahmaan). More the Energy released upon earth — the better would be the output from earth/soil with regard to every substance i.e. crop, water, oil, minerals etc. as a result of which the present shortage can be mitigated. Such process of enhanced living conditions is not an easy proposition in this world when masses refuse to progress/ accept a higher way of life — it is indeed very tough to get the job done, hence:

- i. Their effects have to be neutralized, as prescribed in the Gita.
- ii. After obtaining salvation, one need work under guidance to obtain divine blessings and become a humble instrument (sevak) of God with sole purpose to serve / uplift the weak and the downtrodden.

It may at times appear tough, just as hammering the head against rocks, but the door will open. A sacrificial, gallant determination & commitment could ultimately appease God to activate the process of release of Divine Power, in the form of spirit-energy as blessing/Kripa, which may be partly, and /or slowly: as the SECOND phase activation for this planet. Pre-historic scientific records indicate the recurrence of such events which took place upon earth within the presence of humankind, long back. Its past occurrences could also be experienced now to prove its genuineness.

Upon failure of this method, it would mean; the need for God to trigger the FINAL phase — which would compel the Creator to manifest itself in any form, as in past, and as promised in the scriptures; do everything needed: either for the purpose of continuation of a more purposeful life upon this planet or towards a major catastrophe / maha-pralay, as done in past countless times. It is for God the Creator to decide as God knows the contents of the masses i.e. whether they deserve an up-liftment or an end. God has given more than sufficient opportunities for the masses to evolve at their own with help of available wisdom & capability. God is in no mood now to make any compromise with ones who choose not to arise beyond their self-created bondages of stagnation, misery and ignorance.

KRISHNA (iswarya-prakat-rupa): [related information]

The Result of a process by which the Supreme-Soul manifests itself into a noticeable supernatural power — either into a body-form or a formless energy-format for the purpose of performing specialized task(s) towards welfare of humankind, is termed Krishna(prakat-rupa) by ancient scriptures as recorded in scriptures. For such purpose one need not approach the Supreme-Soul because you are yourself the supreme (after realisation) i.e. one can obtain nothing by praying before the supreme for accomplishing a colossal task or for obtaining a higher capability/wisdom. Hence, pray before 'that' effect called Krishna, which is unlimited with regard to intellect & power, for 'that' Krishna to manifest with a purpose. It can only be done if 'that' Krishna deems it purposeful, as it could bless in any form. All other respectful gods & deities remain beneath Krishna, as a vessel/vehicle/instrument of limitedness. But, in order to approach 'that' Krishna one need ascend to higher planes of consciousness. The higher one ascends the greater tasks one can avail. God does not care as to how many followers, power or wealth you possess because these are all obtained from nature's created-stuff called materialism i.e. maya (prakriti). Such stuff would always remain contained amidst lower rungs of consciousness. You have to shed such rungs of life which are actually fooling and preventing your progress to enable Transform your 'being' and getting into a closer proximity with 'that' — which is called-Krishna.

The virtuous one can obtain superior wisdom & capability i.e. the finer portion of human life only thru direct perception for which one need practice the contents of truth & righteousness as prescribed in Vedic scriptures/ Laws of Truth & Righteousness i.e. to make finer nectar ooze out of its concealment. Purity, love, sacrifices, surrender & devotion (bhakti) is extremely important. It is totally absurd & impossible for anyone to escape from the powerful clutches of illusionary world/ Maya even though one may achieve the best of virtues but would yet, continue to remain under the influence of Maya. It is only absolute submission & devotion before the almighty which may enable one avail its blessings sufficiently enough which could release one out of the invincible bondages of Maya: thereafter, it remains upto God, whether it wants to lift you to higher planes to serve as his instrument in this materialistic & illusionary (maya-vic)/illusory world or grant you perennial freedom from re-births.

Scientists may go on toiling endlessly building workshops & test-tubes (CERNs) of any magnitude but it would always remain impossible to permeate beyond the boundaries of human limitations to create 'that' precious and elusive Energy which could significantly supplement or suitably modify our present resources easily and change our complete lifestyle. But, once you transcend to planes of higher consciousness you could also create any type of clouds/ weather, and much more, as required; for the purpose of welfare of this planet, using Divine intercessions. Also, the much needed deployment of celestial machinery is possible to free earth from presence of CO₂ and undesirable waste gases.

If you carefully analyze this article you would accept that such presentation of information, knowledge & wisdom which could result spiritual amalgamation with conventional science has never ever before been made as done herein because earlier the time & need never so warranted its necessity, perhaps. But today, the planet and its occupants are being faced by an imperious need & challenge to obtain a suitable transformation; as a good replenishment for its exhausted systems for the purpose of continuation of a better life for all upon this earth / planet.

This art of 'Modern Spirituality' defines the process by which it is possible to make proper & suitable effort to infuse spiritual science deep into our works in a manner which would enhance human capability & endeavors towards availing more joyous & purposeful living by modifying the natural properties within and outside our environment using technique which is already within our reach. The prime objective of human life need be changed from the earlier route of seeking Redemption (mukti) towards a novel resolution of Universal Transformation for the entire life upon this weary planet. Hence, the present-time demands need to explore each and every possibility towards arriving at any such proposition which could mitigate the on-going endless misery and hopelessness thrust upon us and our planet— due to ill-effects of our prolonged ignorance & misdeeds.

Fortunately India is well placed at the threshold for initiating a big new change as the leading player in this nature's playground using latent values of its precious wisdom and heritage, which need be placed before the global public to understand & realize the importance of this new game which could transform the entire life upon and around our tiny and lone planet desperately seeking newer breaths by inauguration of newer horizons. This wonder is only practicable by availing Divine intercessions.

About Repetitive Absence of Winter Rains in North India:

Rains and associated weather systems are no fluke but a positive form of blessings from Mother Nature for welfare of all concerned. As explained earlier on page 25, this year again the Western-weather-system (WD) has deviated /bypassed north India this winter (2017-18), as shown by the sketch. Clouds are indeed contained with energy itself but they need another external energy to intensify, move in a certain direction and thereafter dissipate as Rain. This need be controlled to meet our country's demands.

The well integrated & much complexed science of Nature/ Creator needs to be well understood to avail natural bounties for the welfare of our weary planet. It is part of an evolutionary process which need be well studied, practiced and deeply explored.

We have with us three faculties at our disposal to gain complete mastery over, as:

A — Spiritual World

B — Materialistic World

C — Wisdom & Skill

In order to transcend to higher levels of consciousness to achieve improved standards of work performance; one need to first learn the art of getting perfect grips with A & B, subsequently by proper knowledge & wisdom one can achieve C through practice of the same efficiently. But these days people work more with B. The evolved ones also work with A, but unconsciously. This aspect need to be enhanced to gain advantages.

Indeed, with the combination of above 3 parameters: great wonders could be availed for our Planet but, yet — upto a certain limit only depending upon our achieved level of consciousness. However, our consciousness/ capability would always remain limited although we possess within us a particle of God. The higher one ascends towards God — the higher capability to perform is achieved automatically as a design of the Creator/God who made this universe for us as a playground where we all come again & again to practice, workout and demonstrate our capability/skill towards highest possible objective with greatest perfection till we ascend to the uppermost stratum from where we can sufficiently enough liaise/ react, work with God and avail more with regard to every required objective by the process called — “capability to obtain the Grace of God (kripa-prapti)” : one has to be well versed with A because the language of God is a spiritual-tune which one need to decipher its hidden contents and moreover one has to work very hard, steadily with extreme patience and submission.

To perform supernatural tasks for the purpose of welfare of the masses we need another faculty known as [GRACE+INTENT] from God, where grace contains energy, and intent is an approval/intercession/direction from God in conjunction with our requirements. Now these combined, should be sufficient enough to achieve 'that' target, i.e. for the purpose of this article; which could convert matter into Clouds and also make them move and dissipate as Rains at a particular place(s). But to avail these capability one should have worked in a particular field of action very extensively with help of ABC; both mentally & practically. The being of a person takes a desirable shape when a person has acquired knowledge/wisdom and practiced the same extremely well enough to re-shape/ transform himself towards his sought aspiration. A person with only information / knowledge will only be able to see/ observe and make predictions and assumptions: primarily, based upon his achieved experience only.

With regard to meteorology i.e. the subject matter of this article:

Most humbly, without malice or criticism, for the purpose of this article, I state that a meteorologist is generally a person who has studied science pertaining to weather/meteorology, mainly theoretically. As such, he can only observe clouds & weather, as in the books and predict weather based upon his acquired knowledge & experience but he cannot create weather, so easily. One has to mingle sufficiently enough with every type of weather practically, and sufficiently enough to become a part of the weather i.e. to be able to convert one's being partly with the weather itself. But yet such person however hard he may try would always remain limited with regard to his work-output, in terms of getting grips with the art of creating weather.

Most humbly I submit that: me a person has flown airplanes for several decades from ground level to about 40,000feet, am possessed with thorough knowledge about of Meteorology as a pilot. I have flown through all weather conditions, tossed about extensively to have complete experience of having indulged practically by flying in every type of weather i.e. rain, icing, snow, hail, thunderstorms, monsoons, winter, summer etc. and have taken the beating of every type of weather to understand the characteristics of all kinds of weather. I have now become a close friend/associate of weather itself by becoming a part of it through my love, respect and intimacy with it. Hence, weather never stings but always loves & cares for me even more than I do. Weather is also an energy which is a part of nature. i.e. just like we see people get friendly with tigers and lions out of their love and intimacy of factor of togetherness.

Moreover I am also a graduate in Aeronautics and have studied the aerodynamics of air-machines besides every type of weather. I also possess the experience of having conducted artificial rain making using airplanes, by cloud seeding technique. Indeed I become bound to know more about weather and entire atmospheric patterns around the earth envelope after having battered with it all my life. By virtue of experience as a pilot/ airman/professional I have converted my being in relationship with weather.

Thereafter, the other factor: I have accomplished intensive study with regard to the wisdom about scriptures of SPIRIT energy i.e. spiritual-science which is much needed to understand and deploy various applications in regions of higher planes of consciousness towards multipurpose sought objectives. For this purpose a lot of study and meditation is required which takes more than a single life-span as the study is too arduous and made without short-cuts. One can only grasp true essence of spirituality by practicing every bit of spiritual knowledge attained; to understand it better. More the practice — more would be the conversion/transformation of your being in a particular direction. The process is indeed slow & tough as immense sacrifices and hardships are required. These are all the various factors which God evaluates before releasing a part of his controlled energy, it is not so easy to get Divine intercessions.

Spiritual-science and its contained Energy is the most basic & fundamental energy which gave life & birth to everything in the very beginning for this planet. Unfortunately due various reasons people deviated away or misused this precious science just like today also we observe the common concept within the masses i.e. like people who just forget the trunk/roots of the tree but only go towards the fruits only. Similarly modern folks found it easier to pursue and explore materialism as it gives 'see & touch' feelings as Joy also, but due ignorance forgot / ignored spiritualism.

Yes, some people/ tantric type person can harness spirit/psychic energy and create clouds and do many such stunts like curing the ill etc to some extent but they remain subjected to limited applications. Every such achievement is also bound to contain sorrow (dukha) because the human intellect is very limited and will always remain limited as a creation of the creator, unless you get closer to God. There is nothing in this world which can give Joy (sukha) alone. Only God can give you that perennial Joy/Ananda/bliss. Our field of action is only a playground to play and go, come again and go again; till we finally move in the correct path to understand the purpose of life.

The western-weather-system is a blessing of nature. It need be respected and not called as Western Disturbance. It is requested that the concerned authorities must change the name to a more pleasant & appropriate name. Learn to respect nature and also correct that which has been done wrong in past due ignorance or whatsoever reason if one seeks to obtain blessings from nature. As common sense?

Please note: I am aware that this bulletin contains several repetitions. I will correct them later when the complete article is redone for which I need time. Please bear it as I too have limited energy, presently.

Science behind YAGNA towards achieving RAINS

[Rev.19 16 Jun 2018]

YAGNA is an offering, as a sacrifice of consecrated prayers/worship to God. In ancient times yagnas were performed by good sages who would offer their acquired/attained energy accumulated as a result of various austerities, penance, sacrifices and 'Mind-control' faculties to acquire 'positive' energy for deployment of such amassed vitality (prana); towards achieving certain objectives, as a way of life meant for a section of society, at that time.

But today the scene has changed / transformed with requirement of a 'collective-consciousness' where citizenry need to accomplish a different way of acquiring & accumulating such bounties of positive energy: by working dedicatedly at their respective places of action within the mainstream of our collective society. With help of such devoted spirit of selfless-service (nishkaam-seva); energy-power automatically gets accumulated within one's consciousness which the very individual could utilize as and when required, under proper guidance & control.

Yet, one needs to be very careful with acquired /accumulated energy so as to not waste this precious stuff due ignorance or limited intelligence: hence let God deploy the same towards needed applications as the Creator has unlimited intelligence & capability to accomplish the various required feats.

Nowadays, simply burning of timber to perform Yagna may have no result but instead would add to Pollution & Global warming. There is a big difference between ancient & modern transformed life and living systems. Similarly, sprinkling water on streets to remove dust is absurd as the dusty area which settles down with water spray is immediately replaced by surrounding dust. Water is extremely precious in summer, avoid wasting.

TAPASYA: One who undergoes extreme sacrifices and bears great suffering /hardships for the sake of Truth & Righteousness is one who gets engaged in Tapasya. With help of such Tapas the individual can accomplish great wonders, but, yet one must desist from such temptations. Instead submit all the acquired virtues before God/Paramatma who would utilize it better at the most appropriate time. One need understand the art of surrendering everything before god to avail guaranteed progress in the correct direction which could be beneficial to each and every life on Earth.

Unfortunately intellectuals out of ignorance prefer demonstrating their acquisitions using accumulated Energy. Moreover, it depends which phase of the era is active in your worldly system? If you are in the positive era then the energy acquired earlier within a negative segment will not work so easily. You must have acquired energy out of positive Tapas to make it work in the good era i.e. period of virtuous times/ good days. Vedic science i.e. spiritual science and its associated energy/wisdom is the most elementary and precious substance in the entire cosmos which must be well understood if one desires to transcend towards higher planes of consciousness. Otherwise one has the liberty to either live a worldly life within its limited joy and misery or to terminate the process of one's rebirth

Our human being is a vessel of invisible energy containing Spirit/Energy in and around the physical body where you (true-self) is the controller. As long as one wants one may accumulate & control energy as desired, but only to a certain limit. If one is wise s/he would rather submit everything acquired before God to make his vessel empty for the purpose of purification & blessings (Kripa) of God. Such a sanitized & surrendered vehicle/vessel is suitable for its occupant (jiva-atma) for its onward travel to enable one enter into closer relationship with God and work under total harmony & synchronization with the Divine towards higher objectives and improved evolutionary progress, beneficial towards every life on the planet.

TACKLING GLOBAL WARMING

This predator has been created out of human ignorance. Now urgent action is required to mitigate Global warming before it gobbles the entire planet. Answer lies amid the science flowing within us, known as Vedic science:

1. Frequent Rains: we need to forget the past rain systems and start exploring newer possibilities so as to keep the planet cool. This is possible by getting into a closer relationship with Nature. Earlier Chandigarh would get rains in July but like last year Rains have now started in June, partially. More such precipitation with increased frequency & widespread applications to other regions could be achieved by dedicating efforts towards Truth & Righteousness. Shed all that which is evil & corrupt and allow a higher consciousness to work for our welfare

2. Oust trapped gases residing within our planet's envelope which is causing Global Warming. This is possible by using Divine intercessions to successfully trigger and deploy accretion-disc or worm/black-hole technology (divine machines) which could eradicate undesirable accumulated gases in our environment to reduce global warming. The entire planet could become like heaven to dwell within and enjoy nature. It is possible if we commence striving meticulously towards getting into closer covenant with nature/ Creator.

India has a vast potential of learned ones who have attained great amount of wisdom but remain more eager to quit the world as an escape from the bondages & grips of materialistic problems, by leaning more towards that portion of spiritual-ness which would deliver one away from this world and its associated anomalies. This is not the correct solution today. If a person has attained true wisdom; such a learned one need to practice the same in one's field of action with the complete spirit of dedicated selfless-service towards the masses. If such individual experiences difficulties and is unable to tread on this correct path firmly it would mean that the acquired skill & wisdom is yet imperfect or insufficient. Indeed scriptures do profess about Salvation (moksha), but, to enable one tackle the evil claws of this world better and get well equipped with help of true sense of wisdom, under perfect synthesis of Spirit & God to work more comfortably within the toughest pangs of materialistic world and its spasms because such ones would remain unaffected by evil/worldliness. Their object is to work under perfect synchronization with higher planes of consciousness so as to promote the Will and Love of God to help all enjoy greater Beauty and Joy.

Onset of a changed / Monsoon system for India:

1. Last Winter (Nov.17-Apr.18) the routine western weather system (WD) again deviated northward as shown in the sketch with blue arrows by-passing North India and moving the moisture laden clouds over to China. This anomaly is undesirable for India. The western weather should travel eastward so as to bless North India with winter rains. This is an error which has developed in the recent years and can be corrected using wisdom available within Vedic Science and allied wisdom. We all collectively need the requisite determination to achieve this target.

2. This Summer (June) again this year the South-western monsoon system has been replaced by an Eastern Weather system by virtue of which significant weather got established in the Bay of Bengal which carried weather into India by delivering moisture /clouds westward into India from East and far-East as shown in the sketch. This system is better than the past South-Western inputs as it appears to be distributing weather all around the country by end of May & in June. We need not wait for July to get monsoon in Northern parts of the country. This Easterly system could become more efficient if it could be made to commence around mid-May after collection of the Rabi crop and to also deliver a good Kharif crop with a proper monsoon system.

Transformation – need for improved Weather Systems for India.

Like last year, again this time Chandigarh received monsoon rains w.e.f. 1st June 2018 followed with subsequent frequent rains, as explained earlier as a new budding Weather System which also brings in cooler weather from North which has consequentially brought down the max. temperature in the region. Chandigarh received 6 rainy days in the last 16 days. This need be enhanced by collective inputs from public because it is a common effort which brings required changes within our ambience. Objective must be to avail sanctified Rains without any flood havoc or destruction i.e. smooth & fine drizzle to relax the mind with its associated melody. Every human is a potential part of God; this miniscule participant can be sufficient to transform our weary weather systems to be made more effective /efficient.

There is no point of creating monsoon propaganda; there was no SW monsoon at all this year 2018, so far. Weather from East moved across the south peninsula which delivered rains in South due reasons as already mentioned earlier: weather/ rains/ cyclones also gets created by the agitations /vibrations within the human mind, either individually or collectively as part of nature function related to 'cause & effects' philosophy. Concerned authorities must apprise the public with truth. Similarly, public was not advised about deviation of western weather system (WD) last winter season too, which brings in rain during winter? Public inputs are extremely important especially when the governance is not sufficiently efficient. Public output would have corrected the error to restore the path back into India to bring Rains from west. India too could also enjoy frequent rains and other such pleasant inputs from nature in the form of blessings like China & several other S-East countries, as sanctifications.

* Rain melody: this is nature's music just like the divine music (naad) heard during deep meditation. One need have various types of plantations in the backyard bearing different type of leaves. When rain, drizzle & fine drizzle fall on these leaves during monsoon a very soothing melody gets released. This tune gets a finer rhythm with light & variable gentle winds, by turning around the leaves.

Economy, welfare and progress with respect to every life on planet depend also upon how much we can get out of the soil. To extract more out of the soil we need help of nature to put more energy into the soil i.e. to deliver us timely rains & reset disturbed eco-systems. Every time it rains; an unnoticeable input from nature also gets into the soil besides the water part of it. Such inputs are only possible if we can appease Divine to play along with us, more consciously within God's created worldly / materialistic existence (maya). This achievement to avail more from Divine Spirit-energy into our various depleted systems is the most pertinent need of the time towards a swift recovery to evolve our sluggish systems more rapidly. Every section of our society /offices/workplaces must perform efficiently with a spirit of fair-play, transparency & accountability. The negativity in our systems is yet powerful enough to retard rapid progress. It be well realized that nothing more can be achieved within our transformed era by means of foul-play or by supporting evil practices. One cannot worship God and Satan together. (Indeed Satan too holds good control over power, but the same remains limited and it only works during different times as it worked in past with that-time's evil, corrupt and inefficient governance).

Vedic science possesses everything within its garb and must be made available for the youth to understand in the most suitable fashion. The flow of spirit energy within and around our environment is the master player which need be tapped for suitable applications towards resolving various outdated practices and its associated problems prevailing in our society.

Sanskrit learning is NOT essential as every portion of such specialized sciences is available in English and other languages. Complete wisdom of Vedic i.e. spiritual science can also be conceived thru the unified process of direct perception from its originator by carefully engaging the mind deployed under intense contemplation & meditation, as various past seers could achieve. Indeed Upanishads & Gita have to be well understood and practiced in every section of our life-style & society before trying handling with spirit energy & higher domains of consciousness. Scriptures show correct path for human life to be treaded upon, as designed by the Creator. Indeed arduous studies are required to get better grips with it.

This year too alike last time Indian monsoon brought distressing floods at many places in the country, especially Kerala and drought in some regions destroying precious life & property and upsetting habitats and ecosystems. Similarly, winter rains which set in from November remained absent till now dodging North India as explained and shown in page 53, in last article. Indeed conventional science has been able to successfully detect & evaluate effects of nature's such aspect of creation but could not provide means to control the process of Rain-making & its associated applications. The purpose of rains is to use it as a resource to fetch blessings of nature which nourishes the soil with added nutrients, minerals & food. It is not just water droplets falling down from the skies, as the ignorant mind perceives.

We indeed cannot use human senses to see God, but, yet we all possess the faculty of an inner eye to explore & experience the availability of Spirit energy. This precious substance can lead to deliver humankind away from present hordes of misery, adversaries & adversities. Our learned scholars and scientists must struggle to find means to explore this arena, in future. Ignorance compelled human intelligence & endeavor to have divested away more towards materialistic science by ignoring merits of spiritual science.

The main objective for the learned ones in past was to seek salvation /redemption (moksha & mukti) so as to free one from rebirth as an escape route from worldly problems. Even today the objective remains same — which will only fetch you a merger, but, after merger you will not enjoy experiences as you will lose the body-mind faculty. In this regard it is stated that if a person works truthfully & righteously in one's field of action towards its utmost saturation; a point would arrive when he would not feel the need to strive towards salvation/redemption any more. This is what happened with Arjun, the hero of the Mahabharata. In spite of having every possible weaponry attained through arduous sacrifices & struggles he remained to be weaker before his foes. God has made it like this. When lord Krishna imbibed him about the importance of devotion & surrender (bhakti & samarpan): Arjun could yet not get out his mental framework which kept him under captivity of his limited intelligence. It was only when the lord blessed him with the opening of his 'inner eye' he could realize the merits of a higher consciousness. Today after about 5000 years human-kind is again confronted with the same kind of situation and need to find solutions, as this weary planet and our world has reached a point from where its onward progress remains stalled. This need to be revived soon.

About need of achieving salvation/redemption: let it remain to be a function of God to automatically decide & bestow the same, at the correct time. First one need be like a baby-monkey which clings on firmly to her mother and later like the baby-cat who need not do anything but her mother carries it to its destination. Try becoming one whom god picks up in his arms and takes care of everything. God first takes the worldly life away till you are left alone with God and nothing else to possess or cling on to. It is indeed true that the process gets tougher and tougher as you move upward and its makes it very painful and difficult (almost impossible) which at times makes one lean more towards liberation than continuing present life in the body. If one assumes to be the physical body/mind then the material world is the destination to quench desires of the senses but if one realizes to be the soul (atma) then the Supreme Soul (Paramatma) becomes the new destination to travel. Speed of travel can be adjusted to suit the individual.

It is the spirit of true devotion, surrender and faith which can ONLY make God bless his Grace (kripa) into human(s) by which alone one can transcend to those higher realm or proximity from where one could avail anything from God. Such worthy ones enjoy both; the material & spiritual nectar of nature. This amrit ras has all the power within. Trap it, deploy it, but; only with approval of the Creator. Not otherwise, it has been made so. But, for this one need to remain within her/his physical body to enjoy that instead of seeking to shed the same in pursuit of salvation or redemption.

Purpose of inserting this elite science in the field of meteorology is because the grace of god in the form of controlled energy towards desirable Rains has become the most needed ingredient now for the onward evolutionary progress for this planet and its occupants as it could change the entire life and characteristics of every life upon Earth. It can also mitigate Air Pollution which has become a major predator. We need understand the ways & technique to tap this source and deploy the same towards a major transformation much needed today, or, remain at the mercy of unabated pangs of undesirable rains, floods and associated miseries. The use of various austerities (tapas), yagna, sacrifices, psychic control and other such means of control is made redundant. The correct way now is KRIPA. This contains that virtue by which one could be able to withstand every opponent and succeed working in conjunction with God, as his instruments.
